Croswell Is Questioned Again by Reuter

Crime Probe Is Ineffective, Says GOP

OFFERS LATEST IN ACCOMMODATIONS—The renovated Kingston Hotel at Fair and John Streets, strictly modern in exterior appearance, has 100 refurbished rooms and inside appurtenances that are the last word in furnishings for an up to the minute hostelry. (Freeman photo).

New Kingston Hotel Opening Set For Wednesday in Uptown Sector

The handsome new 100-room Kingston Hotel which has risen from the flames which destroyed its predecessor in April, 1956, will open its doors Wednesday morning, Dec. 4.

More than a year and a half ago the former Stuyvesant Hotel was gutted by flames. Since that time—or shortly thereafter—the Kingston Hotel has been slowly rising like the fabled Phoenix, the bird which was reborn in the fire which destroyed it.

Each room has been renovated, the walls done in an attractive hard-spray finish. New modern furniture, drapes and venetian blinds and wall-to-wall carpeting have been installed. Each room has a large closet with ball-bearing sliding doors. The doors are new. There is an electric outlet in the baseboard every 30 inches throughout the building.

Many new bathrooms have been installed. The old ones have been completely refurnished with bathroom fixtures. The bathrooms are all finished with ceramic tile.

Some of the rooms have both tub and shower, about half have only the shower.

Main entrance to the new structure is on Fair Street. There is an entrance at Fair and John Streets into the beautiful new coffee shop—formerly the lounge of the old Stuyvesant. There is also an entrance on John Street to the handsome new bar with its barrel-vaulted ceiling and mahogany serving bar.

The "upholstery" in the coffee shop and bar is of reddish orange color in a new-type plastic somewhat resembling leather.

One of the most striking features of the new building is its three brick arches in the coffee room and bar. There are automatic dimmers on the fluorescent lights in the bar.

1,200 Fire Sprinklers

The new hotel features acoustical plaster ceilings. Downstairs is air-conditioned. Eventually, according to Manager Frank Wixson, the entire hotel will be air-conditioned.

The entire building has been re-wired electrically, completely refurnished with steam pipes,

Natural Gas Starts Flow to 2 Counties

Natural gas began flowing into Greene and Ulster Counties at noon Monday through a new high pressure transmission pipeline when Ernest R. Acker, president of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, turned the tap station valve at the line's northern terminus at Cedar Hill, near Albany.

The $2,700,000, 10-inch steel line, running 52 miles from Kingston to Cedar Hill, ties in with the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, the transcontinental pipeline from which Central Hudson will purchase the natural gas.

Officials Participate

Other Central Hudson officials participating in the valve-turning ceremonies included John Wilkie, vice president and treasurer; Lelan F. Sillin Jr., vice president and assistant general manager; Ernest E. Althouse, vice president in charge of operations; J. Ernest Doolittle, vice president in charge of commercial relations; John R. Gardner, assistant vice president; and Henry L. Walker, production superintendent.

Officials of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company participating in the ceremony included Omar H. Simonds Jr., general sales manager; Thomas J. Nobel, senior sales representative;

A. W. BUDDENHAGEN

Arthur W. Buddenhagen, 9 Harrison Street, resident manager of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's Kingston District, was honored this week on the occasion of his thirtieth anniversary of service with the local utility.

He was cited for his long service and received a service emblem from Central Hudson President Ernest R. Acker at ceremonies in the utility's general office in Poughkeepsie.

Manager Since 1954

Buddenhagen joined Central Hudson in the Kingston accounting department on November 29, 1927. In 1937 he was advanced

Valley Area Building Runs Over 19 Million

State Housing Commissioner Joseph P. McMurray has reported that valuation of building permits issued in the Kingston - Newburgh - Poughkeepsie area was approximately $19,648,200 for the first 10 months of 1957 for all types of construction.

Commissioner McMurray also noted that new private housing construction throughout New York State continued to decline during October and indicated urgently needed homebuilding will not begin to meet demand, nor will the present recession be reversed until the Federal Reserve Board "takes even stronger steps to ease the money market."

He asserted the money market is "still far too tight" to encourage adequate construction.

The $19,648,200 in Dutchess, Orange and Ulster Counties, he said, consisted of permits for 592 dwelling units (which included permits for 569 one-family homes) valued at $7,366,700; $9,635,000 in new non-residential construction, and $2,645,900 for additions and alterations to existing buildings.

For the first 10 months of 1956, building permits were issued for 986 dwelling units, which included permits for 876 one-family homes, valued at $11,666,500, the commissioner said.

To help increase the supply of funds needed by homebuilders, Commissioner McMurray said that the Federal Reserve Board could do the following:

Big Racket Prosecutor Proposed

Reuter Passes Up Scandals: Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of 55 Republican assemblymen wants Gov. Harriman to appoint a special rackets prosecutor with statewide powers.

The lawmakers also demand that the Democratic governor summon an extraordinary grand jury and order a special state supreme court term to cooperate with the prosecutor's investigation into gangster operations and other crime in the state.

Ask Action Like in 30s

The GOP group's resolution urging a special prosecutor with statewide jurisdiction suggested that the prosecutor pattern his procedures after those used by former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey when he was special rackets prosecutor in Manhattan in the 1930s.

Harriman and his acting state commissioner of investigation, Arthur L. Reuter, were criticized as the assemblymen made the demands on the governor yesterday.

The 55 lawmakers, part of the Republican majority in the Assembly, met here at the call of Speaker Oswald D. Heck to help develop a program for consideration by the Legislature when it meets next month.

Another Meeting Tomorrow

A similar meeting for upstate GOP assemblymen is scheduled for tomorrow at Syracuse.

The assemblymen who met here pledged to support any legislation which might be needed for gubernatorial appointment of a special prosecutor.

The resolution was offered by the majority leader, Assemblyman Joseph F. Carlino of Long Beach.

Carlino said the Nov. 14 convention of mobsters at upstate Apalachin "gives rise to the strong inference that ours is the safest state in the nation for the holding of such a nefarious conclave."

GOP Insists on Action

After the 3½-hour Assembly session, Heck said of the resolution:

"We have called on the gover-

S-A Kettles Will Appear This Week

A generous America has kept the bright red kettles of the Salvation Army boiling at Christmas time for more than half a century, Capt. Foster Meitrott said today in announcing that the kettles would make their appearance on Kingston streets this week.

Capt. Meitrott said the collections would be used to support the Christmas program of providing for 100 families with dinners, etc., 600 "sunshine" baskets for the hospitals, nursing homes, etc., and a children's Christmas party for 300 or more with treats and toys.

He said that applications for Christmas help would be received at the local Salvation Army office, 94 North Front Street, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily until December 15.

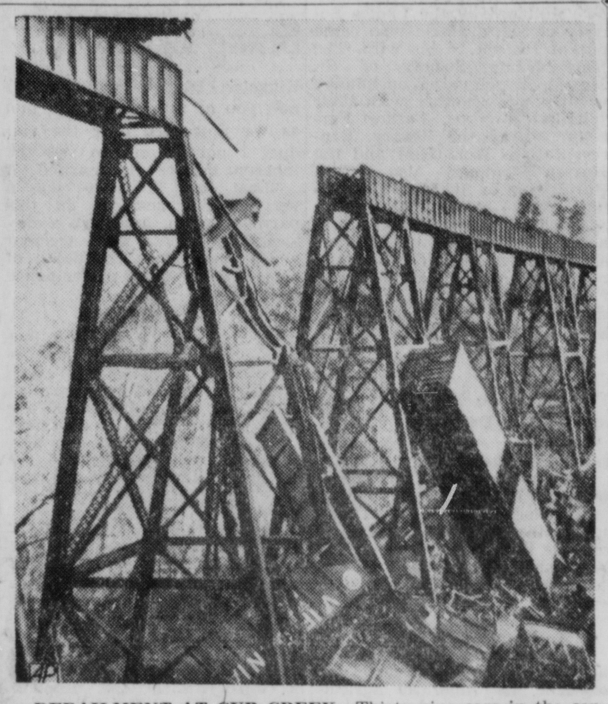

Symbolic of Season

Capt. Meitrott explained that the kettles are "as symbolic of the Yule season as holly, a brightly lighted tree, or the traditional Christmas carols. How did the kettle come to be a symbol of the Salvation Army?

"As is so often true, a tradition evolves quite by accident; and the origin is lost in obscurity or becomes legendary. There are conflicting accounts of the dates and places in which the kettles were first used, but the one which has come to be accepted is that in 1894 one night, just before Christmas, a large ship went aground on the rocky coast near San Francisco.

"Survivors — both passengers and crew—were helped to shelter in a nearby Salvation Army building. Since California, along with the remainder of the nation, was gripped by depression, there was refuge, but little else for the survivors, the Salvation Army was already caring for thousands of impoverished seamen and longshoremen, when food ran out, and an ingenious

Stang Letter Notes Officer Death Here

Mayor Frederick H. Stang in a letter to Governor Averell Harriman urged "top consideration and priority to the elimination of the Washington Avenue viaduct," citing the fatal accident Sunday night which took the life of a special officer of the Kingston Police Department.

The mayor said he appreciated that the arterial route and the relocation of Route 209 have been given priority, but strongly urged the governor to direct the Department of Public Works to give the project immediate attention.

Officer Loses Life

Christopher L. Rappolt, 50, of 115 Fairmont Avenue, a school crossing guard and retired New York City policeman was pronounced dead on arrival at Benedictine Hospital late Sunday night following a two-car collision on the Washington Avenue viaduct in which four persons were injured and a driver arrested on a criminal negligence charge.

Mayor Stang's letter to Governor Harriman is as follows:

"The Legislature of 1956 passed, and you approved, a bill adding Washington Avenue to the state map. This, of course, would contemplate and include the removal of the Washington Avenue viaduct in the City of Kingston.

Traffic Hazard

"This is probably the worst bottle-neck in the free movement of traffic in and out of the City of Kingston.

"I am sure you will recall the occasion of your visit to Kingston when you opened the new

Newburgh Man Is Shot in Alaska, Shows Recovery

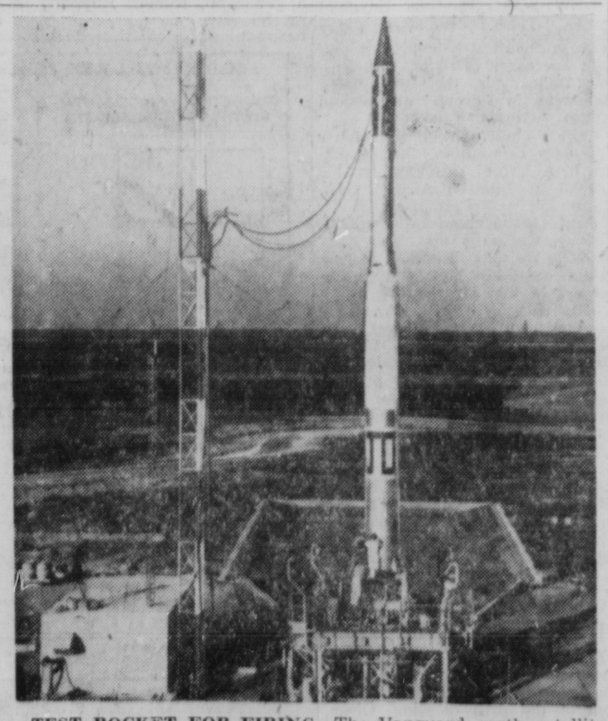

HIGH PRAIRIE, Alta. (AP)—Two special agents for the U. S. Air Force are in a hospital here with rifle wounds suffered Sunday as they drove along the Alaska Highway, en route home from an Alaska base.

Sydney Grahn, 32, of Malden, Mass., and Ray Burkey, 41, of Newburgh, N. Y., were both in good condition yesterday although suffering from shock caused by a loss of blood, doctors said.

Grahn was wounded in the thigh, Burkey in the arm. Both are Air Force investigators with classified ranks.

Wife Denies Any Phone Threat at Hurley Home

A report that the wife of State Police Sgt. Edgar C. Croswell, who led the widely publicized raid on a mobster meeting at upstate Apalachin on Nov. 14, had received threatening telephone calls, was denied today by Mrs. Croswell.

Mrs. Croswell, who resides with her two children in Hurley, told The Freeman that the stories were erroneous, that she had received no such calls and would be perfectly willing to report them if she had.

As The Freeman sought to check out the report that Mrs. Croswell had received threats from anonymous callers, Sgt. Croswell went before State Commissioner of Investigation Arthur L. Reuter in New York City today for further questioning in connection with the raid.

No Complaints Listed

Information coming to The Freeman indicated that the alleged calls to Mrs. Croswell's home might have come from mobster connections.

Chief Counsel Benjamin F. Nolan of the State Commission of Investigation, who was at the State Armory in Kingston today, continuing the probe of local police corruption, said the staff had received no complaints in connection with the alleged calls to Mrs. Croswell.

He said he had hoped there is no truth to the report but if there were the committee had no information about it and was still working on "basic stuff" in connection with the investigation.

No News at FBI

Jack Lupton, local agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said his office had received no report of such calls.

The FBI would not be called in, however, if such calls were of local origin.

The Freeman also attempted to check out a report that Mrs. Crosswell's home had been staked out by police to provide protection for her and the children. No verification could be obtained.

No Comment, Troopers

Area state police had no comment on the rumors.

The Associated Press story from New York City reported that Reuter told newsmen that questioning of Croswell was routine, that he wanted to determine if the trooper had turned up any additional information in connection with the international underworld confab at Apala-

Publisher Gannett Dies at 81

Vast News Empire Grows From $3,000

ROCHESTER (AP) — Frank E. Gannett, who built a $3,000 stake into a newspaper empire, died today at his home. He was 81.

The publisher had been under medical care since April, 1955, when he suffered a fracture of a vertebra in a fall down stairs at his home.

Gannett retired last April as president of the Gannett Co., Inc. and became president emeritus. The company controls and operates 22 newspapers, 4 radio stations and 3 television stations. Most of the Gannett newspapers are in New York State.

Funds for Charity

Two-thirds of the common stock of the Gannett Co., representing voting control, is held by the Frank E. Gannett Newspaper Foundation Inc. It is enjoined to continue publishing the newspapers and to have community service as its paramount objective.

Gannett directed that the foundation use its funds for charitable, educational and general philanthropic purposes in communities where Gannett newspapers are located and generally circulated. The foundation has made several grants.

When Gannett retired, Paul Miller, former chief of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press, succeeded him.

Gannett is survived by his wife, the former Caroline Werner; a daughter, Mrs. Charles V. McAdam Jr. of Greenwich, Conn., an adopted son, Dixon, of Dearborn, Mich., and six grandchildren. Frank E. Gannett II was born Oct. 24 to the Dixon Gannetts. Dixon is associated with the Ford Motor Co.

Candidate for President

Auto Show to Be Held in January

Kingston's third annual Auto Show will be held January 22 through 25, 1958, it was announced today by John Hayes Jr., president of the Kingston Auto Dealers Association, Inc.

Robert W. Denton, Cadillac Oldsmobile dealer, will be chairman of the 1958 show, which will be held at the New York State Armory. Monroe T. Southard will again be show manager.

As in the past two years, net proceeds will be donated by the automobile dealers to the Kingston Area Community Chest.

U.S. May Launch First Satellite Wednesday

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — Engineers worked at top speed today to prepare America's first space satellite for launching at dawn tomorrow or soon thereafter.

They apparently remedied one last minute problem, the malfunctioning of ground support equipment designed to cool some of the fuel before it was pumped into the rocket.

They also labored to eliminate noise interference in the crucial second stage of the three-stage vehicle which will attempt to place a 6½ inch ball into an orbit 300 to 1,200 miles above the earth.

If it is not eliminated, this difficulty could make the 72-foot tall rocket wobble in flight and cause it to break up.

The experts were optimistic that they would have this trouble worked out before the pre-launching count-down. It was learned from various sources that trailer equipment designed to cool the nitric acid to the required temperature before it is pumped into the second stage rocket had not been working properly.

After considerable checking it was discovered that a small valve had been installed upside down. Replacement of the valve apparently remedied the situation.

Builders of the third-stage rocket—the rocket that actually will propel the Vanguard satellite into an orbit and become itself a satellite—showed up for launching preparations and expressed confidence that if the first two rocket stages work perfectly theirs will too.

While the satellite itself is so small it may not be visible, and may be tracked only by the radio signal it broadcasts, the third stage shell is painted white and should be visible at dawn and dusk. It will be about five feet long.

City Court Cases Adjourned Today Until Next Week

Adjournment to next week was granted in two cases in City Court this morning before Special City Judge Harry Gold, one involving the alleged theft of a car and the other a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

John Joseph Manfro, 16, of 596 Broadway, and Roswell John Bradford, 17, of 83 Hasbrouck Avenue, were arrested at the Greene County jail by Detective Clarence Brophy and Officer Ernest Bartroff, charged with second degree grand larceny for the alleged theft of a car.

Bail was set on each at $1,000 and the case adjourned to December 9 to permit them to obtain legal representation.

Police received a teletype message at 4:50 a. m. Monday that Catskill troopers had apprehended the two youths with a 1952 sedan, the license of which was issued to Fred Alton Gardner, of 9 East Union Street.

Local police said the troopers reported the youths admitted stealing the car at about 3 a. m.

Adjournment to December 10 was granted Harvey Terwilliger, 56, of West Norwood, N. J. on charges of leaving the scene of an accident last Tuesday afternoon.

He was arrested after it was alleged he struck a car at Broadway and Foxhall Avenue, police reported.

According to the police, a 1953 sedan, owned by Carmelo Stano of 17 Crane Street, had been struck by another vehicle. Officers Louis Sapp and James Steinhilber were assigned to the case and picked up Terwilliger at West Chester Street and Broadway.

Attorney Francis Tucker appeared for Terwilliger. Attorney Sherwood Davis represented the district attorney's office in both actions.

French Face Boosts

PARIS (AP)—The Cabinet of Premier Felix Gaillard today ordered a sweeping series of price increases that mean a sharp new taste of austerity for the average Frenchman.

A special action committee was set up as a triumvirate to carry out a rapid stabilization of the cost of living regardless of administrative rules.

At the same time the Premier asked the National Assembly for a new vote of confidence next Thursday on the second reading for his bill for new taxes and economies.

The Pan-American Highway from the U. S.-Mexican border to the Panama Canal is expected to be completed by the end of 1959.

DIED

LUSTBERG—Entered into rest suddenly Monday, December 2, 1957, Max Lustberg, of 236 Clinton Avenue, husband of Sarah Bindman Lustberg; father of Mrs. Israel Ornstein and Herbert Lustberg; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday at 12 o'clock from the Riverside Memorial Chapel, 78th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, New York City. Burial will be in Union Fields Cemetery, Cyprus Hills, Long Island.

SHERMAN — At High Falls, N. Y., Saturday, Nov. 30, 1957, Mrs. Adele Schumacher Sherman; beloved mother of Mrs. Caroline Sampson, Mrs. Florence Lonergan and Miss Katherine Sherman; also surviving are several nieces and nephews.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral from the George J. Moylan Funeral home, Main Street, Rosendale, Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., thence to St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, at 10 a. m., where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in High Falls, N. Y. Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

Frank C. Benicase

The funeral of Frank C. Benicase of 15 Ulster Street was held at Frank H. Simpson Funeral Home, 411 Albany Avenue, Monday at 9:15 a. m., thence to St. Mary's Church where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul. Officiating was Rev. Francis X. Toner, celebrant, the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, deacon and the Rev. William V. Reynolds, sub-deacon. Responses to the Mass were sung by Martin Kelly, assisted at the organ by Theodore Riccobono. Members of St. Mary's Benevolent Society and Ladies Society of Santa Maria acted as honorary escorts. During the days of reposal hundreds of friends, neighbors, co-workers and relatives called to pay their respects to the bereaved family. There were many beautiful floral tributes and numerous spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards, all attesting to the high esteem in which he was held. Among the clergy that called to offer prayers for the dead were the Rt. Rev. Martin J. Drury, the Rt. Rev. Joseph Connolly, Father Toner and Father Reynolds. On Saturday evening the officers and members of St. Mary's Benevolent Society called in a body to pay respects to their departed member, followed by the Ladies Society of Santa Maria who came out of respect to his wife. The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church called on Sunday evening and together with their spiritual director, Father Farrelly, recited the Rosary. Representatives from IBM and the Hutton Company also called. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Monsignor Drury, assisted by Father Farrelly pronounced final blessings. Honorary bearers, all fellow society members, were Pat DeCicco, Frank Turck, Joseph Appa, Joseph Bonovita, Nicholas Altamarie and Sam Appa. Active bearers were Ralph Appa, James DeCicco, John Mayone, Frank Carpino, Frank Catonzari and Michael DeCicco.

Publisher Dies

public recreation facilities, education and youth.

A Democrat early in life, he became a Republican in 1918 but for many years classed himself as an independent.

He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1940. He received 33 votes at the convention in Philadelphia. Wendell Willkie was nominated. In 1942, Gannett served as assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Gannett started from scratch. He was born Sept. 15, 1876, on a farm about 50 miles southeast of Rochester. The farm yielded a sparse living and his father, Charles, gave it up. Subsequent farming ventures also failed.

Gannett sold newspapers, collected and sold carloads of bones, wrote letters for and sold rubber-stamp signatures to Italian track workers and hustled every way he could to make an honest dollar.

Won Cornell Grant

He won a scholarship to attend Cornell University. He entered with $80. He had saved $1,000 by the time he was graduated in 1892.

He worked on the Cornell Daily Sun. But his first paying job as a reporter was on the Syracuse Herald. He left the job to become secretary to the president of Cornell, Jacob G. Schurman, when the latter was made head of a commission to study the Philippines.

In 1900, Gannett returned to the United States and newspaper work. He became city editor of the Ithaca, N. Y., News, at $15 a week, and later worked briefly in New York and Pittsburgh.

In 1906, he bought a half interest in the Elmira, N. Y., Gazette.

To start this first venture in newspaper ownership he had $3,000 in cash. He obtained $7,000 in "character" loans and gave a note for $10,000. From that point on, his progress was rapid in building a group of newspapers.

In 1907, the Elmira Star was ready to sell. Gannett became a co-publisher of the Star-Gazette. He bought the Ithaca Journal in 1912 and later merged it with the Ithaca News.

With associates, in 1918, Gannett bought the Rochester Union and Advertiser and the Rochester Evening Times. He merged the two papers into the Rochester Times-Union.

Used Light Control

over his newspapers. Each local editor was permitted to express his own views, which sometimes differed from Gannett's.

He had only one ironclad rule for his papers—they were not to accept advertisements for alcoholic beverages. He fought the liquor industry at every turn.

Gannett had a deep and sustained interest in government—local, state and national. He fought many of President Roosevelt's domestic policies but supported the administration's foreign policy.

As founder and chairman of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government, Gannett was credited with having helped to defeat Roosevelt's plan to enlarge the Supreme Court.

Gannett was an aviation enthusiast. His 700,000 miles of flying time included a 23,000-mile flight around the world in 1947. An inveterate traveler, he visited many lands and interviewed chiefs of many nations, usually on a subject close to his heart — world peace.

Friend of Farmer

Gannett was a friend of the farmer. He was part owner of the magazine, the American Agriculturist; he retained close contact with the state agricultural college at Cornell, and he encouraged farm news in his papers.

He also had a deep interest in scientific human diet.

The publisher paid close attention to his health. In his earlier years he was devoted to tennis. Later he turned to golf and yachting.

He suffered a stroke at his desk here in 1948. He attributed his recovery to his lifetime of moderate exercise.

He was a supporter of a comprehensive state park program and all movements that would make parks available to the public.

He was a trustee (later trustee emeritus) of Cornell and of Keuka College. He received many honorary degrees. He was a director of the Associated Press from 1935 to 1940. He advocated more research in the newspaper field and he backed experiments.

AP Director 5 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Gannett in 1951 were awarded the Wilson Fairbanks Citation for "their outstanding service to higher education" and "their unwavering friendship for youth." In 1955, they won the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences' 14th civic medal for their efforts to enrich the community and make it "a better place in which to live and bring up children." Gannett several years ago established a large entertainment center for teen-agers.

Gannett was a member of the Unitarian Church.

Celler Calls For Dulles To Resign

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) returned today from a month's tour abroad and said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "is the best hated American in Europe" and should resign "without trace."

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, told reporters in a formal statement on his arrival at Idlewild Airport from Rome:

"All of Europe — England, France, Germany and Italy particularly — has become allergic to him. He is the butt of jokes, the subject of bitter satire.

"His usefulness with our allies has vanished. He is the chief architect of western disunity. In this atomic-age fever Dulles is bad medicine. His righteous preachings and diplomatic sermons grate on the nerves of our NATO.

"New men, new faces and new policies are needed in our State Department. Unless Dulles is replaced soon, our allies will bluntly tell President Eisenhower that a new note of vigorous and constructive and ingenious leadership is needed. This is essential if NATO is to be held together and made to survive."

Stang Letter

Kingston - Rhinebeck Bridge. I met you at the interchange and as we proceeded over the viaduct I pointed out to you the inherent dangers that existed.

"Last June 5th there was a very serious accident on this narrow bridge, and just a day ago there was a fatal accident which resulted in the death of one of the members of our police department.

Asks Priority

"While I appreciate the fact that the arterial route and the relocation of 209 have been given priority, I respectively suggest and strongly urge Your Excellency to direct the Department of Public Works to give this particular project, 'the elimination of the Washington Avenue viaduct,' top consideration and priority.

"During the hearings held before the Public Service Commission there was a great deal of testimony pointing out the dangers that exist and its hinderance to traffic."

Robert Edward Walther, 39, of Box 259, Rd 2, Kingston, the driver of the vehicle which was in collision with the Rappolt car, according to the police, was arrested on a criminal negligence charge in operation of a vehicle and remanded to Ulster county jail in lieu of $1,000 bail.

Case Adjourned

The case in City Court this morning before Special City Judge Harry Gold was adjourned to December 10.

Attorney Joseph Hill appeared for Walther and Sherwood Davis represented the district attorney's office.

Police listed those injured in the accident as:

Mrs. Theresa Rappolt, 49, wife of the victim, still reported in serious condition today at Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Mabel Stanley, 71, of 6 Russell Street, Saugerties reported "fair" at Benedictine Hospital today.

Charles Stanley, 73, of Saugerties was treated but not admitted to the hospital, police reported.

According to the police Walther suffered a pain in the right side of the jaw and was examined at Kingston Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley were passengers in the Rappolt car.

The post mortem examination report on Rappolt issued by Coroner Francis J. McCardle this morning, gave the immediate cause of death as apparent acute cardiac failure, contusions of the chest and pulmonary edema.

Funeral Thursday

The funeral of Rappolt will be held from the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl Street, Thursday at 9:30 a. m.; thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 10 a. m. a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home today and Wednesday between 7 and 9 p. m.

Surviving beside his wife are a son, Raymond C. Rappolt and a grandson, Robert Rappolt, all of this city.

Ike May Seek $4 Billion More For Aid Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today was reported ready to urge congressional leaders to provide about four billion dollars in new foreign aid funds to help offset Russian economic subversion abroad.

The sum, about 600 million dollars more than Congress appropriated last year, would extend the government's multi-billion dollar foreign aid program into a 12th consecutive year. It would cover the year beginning next July 1.

Two Other Requests

Authoritative officials said the program outlined today to Republican and Democratic legislative leaders at the White House would include these other two key requests:

1. Extend the reciprocal trade program for five years after the law expires June 30 with power for Eisenhower to cut tariff duties 5 per cent more each year.

2. Approve United States membership in the controversial 37-nation Organization for Trade Cooperation. This was developed in 1955 as a means of policing existing trade arrangements but Congress has balked at approval for the past three sessions.

The proposed four billion dollar foreign aid total would include military, economic and technical assistance to 67 nations where the administration presently is operating such programs. The figure would include the 625 million dollars Congress authorized but did not appropriate last year for the new development loan fund.

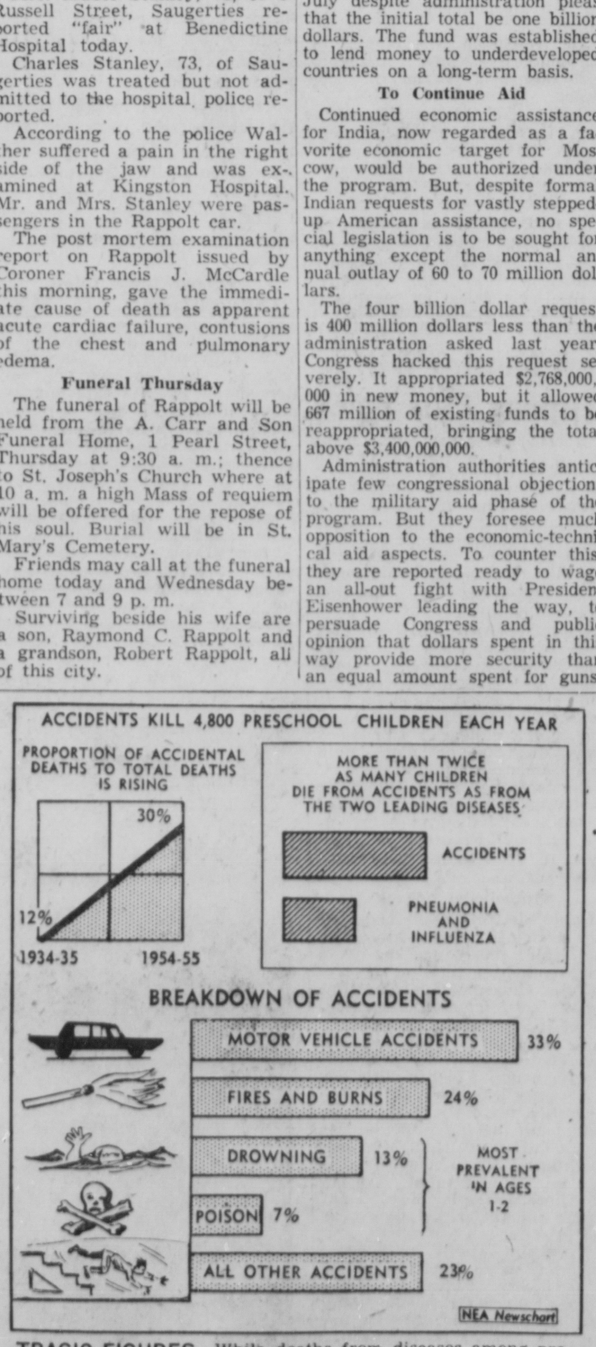

Congress appropriated only 300 million dollars for this fund last July despite administration pleas that the initial total be one billion dollars. The fund was established to lend money to underdeveloped countries on a long-term basis.

To Continue Aid

Continued economic assistance for India, now regarded as a favorite economic target for Moscow, would be authorized under the program. But, despite formal Indian requests for vastly stepped-up American assistance, no special legislation is to be sought for anything except the normal annual outlay of 60 to 70 million dollars.

The four billion dollar request is 400 million dollars less than the administration asked last year. Congress hacked this request severely. It appropriated $2,768,000,000 in new money, but it allowed 667 million of existing funds to be reappropriated, bringing the total above $3,400,000,000.

Administration authorities anticipate few congressional objections to the military aid phase of the program. But they foresee much opposition to the economic-technical aid aspects. To counter this, they are reported ready to wage an all-out fight with President Eisenhower leading the way, to persuade Congress and public opinion that dollars spent in this way provide more security than an equal amount spent for guns.

TRAGIC FIGURES—While deaths from diseases among preschool children (ages 1-4) have steadily declined, the proportion of accidental deaths has risen by 250 per cent over a period of 20 years. Newschart, based on Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statistics, shows major causes of fatal accidents. The company points out that by becoming aware of types af accidents most common at certain ages, parents can eliminate hazards and teach safety measures to children.

Croswell Is . . .

chin in mid-November.

The AP report from New York said:

Announcement of the new Reuter-Croswell conference was made yesterday about the same time that the Legislature's "watchdog" committee said it had been able so far to serve subpoenas on 22 of the 36 New York State residents listed among those who attended the Apalachin meeting.

Absent From Hangouts

The committee's executive director, Edward J. Donovan said the other 14 New York State characters at the conclave had "conveniently absented themselves from their usual hangouts."

The committee is scheduled to meet in closed session at Albany Dec. 12 to investigate the Apalachin convention. Donovan said he hoped that testimony of the subpoenaed men would shed light on the purpose of the meeting.

In all, 60 men attended the meeting broken up by state police. They were let go after questioning. State police officials said there was no charge on which they could be held.

Reuter's office and the "watchdog" committee are among a number of state and local agencies investigating the Apalachin affair.

Confers Two Hours

Reuter spent about two nours yesterday conferring with Charles Kress, former mayor of Binghamton and former sheriff of Broome County. Joseph Barbara, whose sumptuous estate was the site of the Apalachin meeting in Tioga County, has a beer and soft drink distributing business in Broome County.

After the Reuter-Kress meeting, it was announced that Kress had volunteered "confidential" information about the Apalachin meeting.

Kress later gave the same information to Donovan of the "watchdog" committee.

Kress said his information was accompanied by a program to make upstate New York "entirely too uncomfortable for the wealthy scum of the underworld."

Real Reason Unknown

He said the real reason for the Apalachin meeting has not even been hinted at in the press. He declared specifically that it was not—as reported in some quarters—to split up the racket enterprises of Albert Anastasia, the mob murderer slain in New York City Oct. 25.

One point of Kress' program was to strengthen the penal code to forbid a person "with an evil reputation" from owning or using an auto if he employs it to consort with another person of the same reputation.

Another point was to require state police headquarters to furnish all members of the force, chiefs of police and sheriffs with listings, photos and descriptions of known racket leaders.

Advises Quick Arrests

Kress also suggested that state police be instructed to make immediate arrests of hoodlums whenever there is any evidence that they are engaged in disorderly conduct by consorting with other racketeers.

Although the arrests would not result in serious penalties, he said, the harassment would discourage "these silk-shirt bums" from gathering in upstate areas.

Another point raised by Kress matched a suggestion he made in a letter to Gov. Harriman two weeks ago. It urged a review of the upstate system of handling gun permits and revision to assure that no permit is issued over the written protest of a responsible law enforcement officer.

Kress also suggested again a reopening of the investigation of the unsolved murder of Joe ("Colorado") Morreale in Endicott in 1934.

Moms Surprise Girls

CHICAGO (AP) — Mothers of two 4-H Club girl winners turned up today at a luncheon amid delighted squeals of 1,000 youngsters.

The appearances of Mrs. Margaret Lamb of Darien Center, N. Y., and Mrs. Frances Parvis of Houston, Del., were surprises for their daughters, Lorna Lamb and Connie Parvis.

The girls are state champions in this year's 4-H girls' home economics program. Both mothers won identical honors 27 years ago.

Ranging from Christopher Columbus to Harry Truman, the lifelike models are made with a secret vinyl plastic-wax formula which, according to Dorfman, "even feels alive."

Letters Indicate Vast Interest in TuberculosisFight

Every man's hand is raised against tuberculosis, judging from the letters that pour into the association's headquarters, according to Robert S. Russell, County Christmas Seals sale chairman.

Money from Christmas Seals, proceeds of which are used to fight the disease, comes from people who themselves very often need help, he said.

"I am enclosing a one dollar bill, I wish I could make it one hundred dollars," writes one old lady, "God bless you and your work." An elderly couple sent a dollar and reported they would like to give more, both were ill and in the hospital," we can't give more, we are on a small pension—Lots of good luck." A county man wrote, "With a broken back, and maybe never able to work again, you'll find my extreme limit. Another contributor said in sending two dollars for the Christmas Seals, if he had made enough to give more, he would be more than willing to send much more, and sends some seals back to be given to the fellow who has even less than he, the contributor.

It is heart warming, Chairman Russell said, to receive these letters and often meet the people who come to the TB office at 74 John Street, Kingston, with their contributions. They speak of the constructive program of education, chest X-ray benefits and rehabilitation services for the TB patient, which is part of the work carried on by the TB and Health Association through Christmas Seals funds.

Vital Decisions Face Ike

Speculation Is Continuing On Fitness of President

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hasn't had time since his mild stroke to do what he did after his heart and intestinal attacks: Tell the country how he feels about continuing in office.

Judging from the way he's been acting, he'll do what he did before: say he has "no doubts" about his ability to carry out his job fully until his second term expires in 1961. That's what he said after his previous illnesses.

Eisenhower—as if to show his stroke was a minor episode and that Vice President Nixon was right in describing him as a "caged lion" in his desire to get back to work—went to church, held a Cabinet meeting, hit golf balls.

May Grow Stronger

This may quiet some of the speculation on whether he should retire or continue in office. But the speculation exists, nevertheless, just as it did after his other illnesses. It may be even stronger now.

There is a limit on how many serious illnesses a president can suffer—with their ensuing periods of reduced activity—without causing serious concern about the national welfare and his ability to do what his job requires.

At the core of any such speculation in this question: Can he give to the presidency all the time, energy and thought needed for it? Or does he retire more and more into the background, letting others do more and more of the job a fully vigorous president would be doing?

Serious Problems

At a time when Eisenhower's doctors say his activity must be "substantially" reduced for some weeks, the President faces problems and decisions far more serious than those which confronted the nation when he was ill twice before.

Besides getting the budget and his legislative recommendations ready for a Congress which returns in January, Eisenhower must assert leadership in rebuilding American alliances and meeting the Russian missile challenge.

Dickinson Sees '58 Recession; N.Y. May Escape

NEW YORK (AP)—All signs point to a countrywide recession next year with four to five million unemployed, says State Commissioner of Commerce Edward T. Dickinson.

Dickinson yesterday listed as causes "defense cutbacks and stretchouts" and the country's tight-money policy.

Dickinson told the Bronx board of trade that signs of a recession include a drop in construction and the fact that the national personal income peak was reached last August.

He added, however, that New York State and New York City should feel fewer effects than other sections of the economy.

"The diversification of the state's economy should cushion the impact of a 1958 recession," Dickinson said.

Hits 3-Year Low

BUFFALO (AP)—Steel production in the Buffalo area has dropped from 100 per cent of capacity to 63.5 per cent, a three-year low, in the past two months.

Bethlehem Steel Co. shut down three more open hearth furnaces at its Lackawanna plant yesterday and is now operating 21 of 35 furnaces.

Layoffs are reportedly being held to a minimum by cutting the work week to four days for thousands of men and transfering some to other departments.

ORGANIZED AND DEADLY

Two recent events have focused renewed attention on the presence and impact of nationally organized crime in the United States. The first of these events was the assassination of Albert Anastasia, the former head of Murder, Inc. The second was the conclave of some 60 gangland leaders in a New York town, apparently for the purpose of making a "where do we go from here" decision.

An underworld empire of crime has existed in this country for many years. There is considerable evidence that its framework is the infamous Mafia, or "black hand" society. Numerous underworld chieftans—such men as Al Capone, Frank Costello, Charles (Lucky) Luciano and Anastasia—have been linked to the Mafia. Though efforts have persistently been made to destroy their empire, it appears that they continue to wield substantial control over organized crime that costs the nation some two and a half billion dollars annually.

The most ambitious attempt to expose the organized crime syndicate and bring about its downfall was made by the Senate's Kefauver committee in 1950. It was only partly successful. Now organized crime seems to be on the increase again.

Law enforcement authorities are not idle. The men who attended the recent underworld war council are, for example, being checked with a view to deporting those liable to such action. The point to be made is that the presence of a deadly organized crime network is the concern of every citizen. There should be vigorous public support of local, state and federal efforts to root out this conspiracy of the underworld. It is a cancer whose attack on our society cannot be tolerated.

CHALLENGE TO YOUTH

Many competent, qualified and sincere teachers on colleges and university faculties have expressed grave concern because of the moods and attitudes of the present generation of youth. In various sections of the country, college teachers are concerned because so many young students seem to be more bent on security then on the acquisition of knowledge. They speak of a decline in curiosity in students.

Sputnik has beeped a warning signal. The present generation of students may one day have to stand up to men like Khrushchev. We are in a new era, one in which security might not be best gained by security-seeking and security mongering. The future will call for vision, knowledge, boldness, not caution.

If many professors be correct in their judgment of the students today, it can only be stated that youth is living in a dream world. The period of youth is the time to question values, to be intellectually daring and to send the mind ranging far and wide. Students should think about their attitudes. It is possible to throw away one's education and one's life in intellectual timidity as well as by dissipation.

Faith is the certainty that under the snow the grass still lives, waitng for spring to be green again.

THE RAILROADS' PLIGHT

In dribs and drabs, and occasionally with a big splash, reports continue to float in of the declining fortunes of America's railroads.

Not long ago the New York Central and Pennsylvania, the country's two biggest, announced a proposal for a merger to strengthen themselves against the darkening financial prospect they foresee.

Later on the Baltimore and Ohio asked authority to suspend all passenger runs on its line between Washington and New York. The New Haven has appealed to two states for an outright subsidy for its commuter services. Dismal financial reports come in from many other lines.

The time cannot now be too far off when the government will have to decide what value it places on our far-flung rail system, and how it proposes to maintain it in a time of mounting adversity for so many companies.

'These Days'

THE VICE PRESIDENT

Constitutionally, the Vice President has two functions only: 1. To preside over the Senate; 2. To be on hand should the President die or become disabled to take over so that the Administration will be continuous until the next election. Apart from these two functions, the Constitution gives to the Vice President no duties, obligations, authorities or responsibilities.

James Roosevelt is quite correct when he suggests that Congress should do something about the word, "disability," which throughout the existence of our nation, has not been defined. James Roosevelt should know from experience what danger the country can be in when a President suffers from severe ailments during his incumbency, as his father did in his third term. It is now clear that Franklin D. Roosevelt was not altogether himself at Yalta. It is clear that he was not physically fit to run for a fourth term. It is clear that he should not have run for a third term.

At any rate, one can, if he is so minded, rationalize Mr. Roosevelt's conduct as a desire to prevent Henry Wallace from becoming President constitutionally. Instead Harry Truman got it although he had not been permitted to learn the job and had to begin from scratch at one of the most difficult moments in modern history. He went to Potsdam to face an aging but still wily Stalin, who, as a confirmed atheist, and a renegade student for the priesthood, must have wondered why the God of Christians gave him such a break. No country has yet dared to publish the Potsdam papers.

Richard Nixon is not so ill-prepared to assume whatever responsibilities he may constitutionally. There being no provision for an acting President, his signature on a document can have no legality. He may be deputized by the President to perform some functions, but he has no legal authority to act.

In the case of Woodrow Wilson, the conduct of the Presidency during his final illness was utterly illegal and dishonorable. A White House cabal operated the Presidency and acted in the President's name, even signing documents, not a one of which could stand a challenge of its legality even if the President's hand was held to a pen. Only history will fully disclose what mischief may have been done.

In the case of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he functioned arbitrarily to the very end and apparently was able to perform his tasks. His illness was becoming more obvious during the fourth term campaign. I shall never forget his parade through Harlem in an open automobile in a pelting rain. After that he was taken to the Waldorf-Astoria to change his clothes, drink some martinis and attend a huge dinner at which he spoke. I listened to that speech over the radio. At one point his voice grew husky, off pitch, and his words were slurred in a shaking manner. He quickly recovered.

The response was: "What a wonderful man! What a marvelous physique!" The truth was that he was a very sick man, actually dying by those slow processes which often pass unnoticed in a man of Mr. Roosevelt's herculean activities.

Vice President Nixon is behaving constitutionally. He is not forcing himself upon the President. He is not expanding his legal authority. Whatever the President has asked him to do, he does. The country will not accept Sherman Adams as an acting President; therefore Nixon must step in quickly.

When Senator Styles Bridges, senior among Republicans, suggested that the Vice President be given certain authorities if and while the President was disabled, he was not rushing in too hurriedly as a naive television commentator suggested but he was notifying Sherman Adams in utterly understandable language that the Republicans in Congress will not accept the White House Chief-of-Staff as an acting President.

Congress needs to define the word, "disability," in language which leaves no doubts, because Presidents are human and anything can happen to them, and much has. Congressional action may be open to question as applying to this term in office of the President or Vice President, but legislation should be passed while the perils of being a human being are fresh in the people's memory. As our Constitution is written, the President's powers and functions are too great, too concentrated and too numerous to permit of ordinary human frailties. There is no provision for a regency.

Proper Care Prevents Foot Troubles in Young

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Two related questions which can be discussed together come respectively from Mrs. F. and Mrs. H. The former writes that her little grandson has always had weak feet, but has now learned that the little boy has knock-knees and will need to wear braces. Mrs. H. writes to ask what causes a child to be bowlegged and pigeon-toed. Both ladies would like a discussion of this subject.

Foot trouble in children is by no means uncommon. A relaxation of the ligaments frequently brings about flat feet and this is commonly associated wth knock-knees. So far as the feet are concerned, treatment should include corrective exercises if the child is old enough to cooperate. Of course, corrective shoes are generally advisable. These are designed to have built-in long arch supports, turned in toes and elevation of the inside of the heels.

SO FAR AS knock-knees are concerned, this is a curvature of the leg inward as the name implies. In addition to flat feet the vitamin deficiency disease known as rickets is an important factor in causing this condition in many instances. Rickets leads to softening of the bone.

The treatment here consists in correction of the rickets by vitamin supplements or diet as well as appropriate treatment of the feet. If the knock-knee is only of slight degree, some restriction on walking, corrective manipulations and proper shoeing, in addition to diet, may be enough. In more difficult cases braces are sometimes effective. In the most severe ones an operation on the bone may be necessary.

The question of bowlegs is quite similar. Here the legs are bowed outward as a result of softening of the bone, again usually due to rickets. If this is the case, dietary treatment is again in order and unnecessary weight bearing should be avoided until the condition has improved. Here, too, braces sometimes help, but when severe, an operation on the bone may be desirable.

IT WOULD BE WELL for parents to keep a close eye on their young children for flat feet, knock-knees, bowed legs or any other abnormality which they may observe in the feet and legs. As is true with so many other disorders, treatment is much more effective if started early.

Another thing which parents can do is to make certain that their youngsters obtain enough vitamin D during the long winter months, when the action of the sunlight on the skin does not manufacture enough. This will certainly prevent some of these disorders, as will care in proper shoeing.

Darned If They Didn't Put Him Together Again

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization three-day NATO Council meeting in Chaillot Palace, Paris, in mid-December, could provide the opportunity for some dramatic new gesture — like President Eisenhower's earlier atoms-for-peace and open-sky inspection for disarmament plan.

But old hands in the diplomatic business point out that trick gimmicks or some space-shattering pronouncement—while electrifying as publicity—are not the solution for what ails NATO today.

What's needed is much more practical, solid stuff. Observers are cautioned, therefore, not to expect too much in the way of a new charter to save the world from Russian missiles.

THE UNITED STATES delegation is expected to make the country's position clear on all the major problems confronting the world and NATO. Vice President Nixon will be accompanied by Secretaries of State Dulles, Defense McElroy and Treasury Anderson, plus their top advisers.

All the other 14 members of NATO will be similarly represented.

When you get 150 people of this rank together, it represents a lot of top brass. But it is too big a group to do much constructive thinking or creative acting.

What the council is expected to do is put its approval on several programs that have been under study over a year:

1. Step up scientific cooperation of NATO countries.

2. Beef up NATO defenses with the newest weapons.

3. Strengthen the political bonds of NATO.

THERE HAVE BEEN TWO groups working on science problems.

Dr. Joseph B. Koepfli of Cal. Tech. has headed a task force in Europe. It has tried to set up a plan to coordinate research programs in NATO countries and to avoid duplicating research. Dr. Koepfli's report has not yet been made public, but it may be adopted and implemented at the Paris meeting.

Senator Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) headed a NATO parliamentary committee on training scientific manpower. Its report, published last September, outlined a two-million-dollar plan —the U. S. to pay half—for fellowships to develop more scientists in NATO countries.

At the Western European Union meeting last spring, Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer asked for a review of NATO defense plans in the light of new weapons. U. S. NATO commanders General Lauris Norstad and Admiral Gerauld Wright and their staffs have been studying this problem. They'll report at Paris.

There has been much speculation that plans for greatly expanding NATO bases in Europe and equipping them all with atomic warhead missiles would be adopted. But since this involves top secret defenses, it is considered likely that many of the details approved at Paris will not be made public.

THE QUESTION OF GREATER political cooperation among NATO countries was first raised in the fall of 1956. This was after Britain and France failed to consult on their Suez military adventure.

Foreign Ministers Lester Pearson of Canada, Gaetano Martino of Italy and Halvard Lange of Norway were named as a committee of "three wise men" to study political cooperation. They reported a year ago. Their report was adopted. But it has never been implemented.

In the meantime, new differences among the NATO powers have arisen over Syria, Yugoslavia and Tunisia. Russian development of missiles and the apparent deadlock over disarmament in the United Nations now put greater pressure than ever on the NATO countries to cooperate for survival.

Economic cooperation among the NATO countries proceeds much better. The European Common Market and the unified atomic energy development plan known as Euratom go into effect in 1958.

From a practical standpoint, they are doing more to unify Europe than all its political and military alliances. They may do more to save NATO than any conference. But it takes years—not three days—to get new ideas of this sort in operation.

U. N. Lauded for Its Stand On Reunification of Korea

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Any evidence that the free world is maintaining its ideals and would, if necessary, fight for them is welcome nowadays, when appeasement is in the air.

Thus, Aneurin Bevan, who may be the next foreign secretary of Great Britain, is, in effect, urging withdrawal of American forces from Europe and is advocating "neutralism" as between America and Soviet Russia.

George Kennan, one of the men who influences a considerable section of the so-called "liberal" group in America, has been delivering lectures in England in which he questions the necessity of keeping United States troops in Germany and sees a serious danger in stockpiling nuclear missiles in Western Europe.

These utterances are not surprising. There are many people who have been impressed by Soviet intransigence and who consequently advocate compromise, though such moves could be the first steps toward surrender.

UN Not for Appeasement

What the United Nations did last week, however, stands out as a conspicuous rejection of doctrines of appeasement. Thus, during the last three years, for instance, the propaganda in favor of admitting Red China into the United Nations has been persistent. The old cliche that, after all, the Communist Chinese are in supreme control of the mainland is offered as the reason for forgetting basic principles and for rewarding the aggressor in the Korean War. There is disregard, too, of the fact that Red China's Foreign Minister—Chou En-lai—went to Geneva in 1954 and denounced the United Nations, saying he wouldn't have anything to do with that organization in any plan for unifying Korea. If Korea was to be reunited, he said, it must be under Communist terms.

Fortunately, the United Nations itself hasn't overlooked the fact that, since the Geneva conference of 1954, the Red Chinese haven't given an inch on the subject and still talk as if they had won the war in Korea.

UN Still for Unity

By adopting a resolution calling for the peaceful reunification of Korea under United Nations auspices and by doing so with an overwhelming vote, the United Nations told the world last week it was standing firm for the ideals of collective security for which so many American and other soldiers in the free world gave their lives.

Perhaps the best expression of true American sentiment came from a source which has not always supported the foreign policy of the present administration. In an editorial that minced no words and stated the blunt truth, "The New York Times" said on Monday:

"Actually, the United Nations, itself the sponsor of the free Republic of Korea, has again put itself on record as opposed to the continued outrage of partition. It has again called for a righteous solution of the problem, in accordance with its own lofty principles. From that moral ground there can be no tretreat.

"Those members of the United Nations who wish to see freedom and justice served realize, as do the free Koreans themselves, that they are facing, and will continue to face, a Communist obduracy rooted in the denial of freedom and the frustration of justice. There has been no deviation from this unfruitful pattern of Communist thought and behavior since the first days when the Soviet Union imposed the barbarous division of the peninsula upon the Koreans and defied the good will and good purposes of most of the free world. It is wishful thinking, now, to look for some sort of proper compromise on the basic issues. The Communists simply do not want and will not tolerate such a step.

Would Press for Goal

"For this reason it is doubly important that the United Nations position continue to be made unequivocally clear. The Communists can rely upon the desire of the free world to keep the peace, and they obviously hope to freeze the Korean situation into a permanent stalemate until it suits their purposes to strike again. What the United Nations can do, in response, is to keep up an unremitting moral pressure against the wrongdoers and to maintain its physical as well as moral assistance for the free Koreans. That road is long and painful but there can be no turning away from it."

This is adherence to American idealism and rightly emphasizes a reliance on moral force. What is said of the Korean stalemate, of course, applies equally to the stalemate over the reunification of Germany. There can be no compromise of principal without opening up wide the roads to appeasement which in the end, as the 1930's demonstrated, can only lead to war.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I am asked about the making of glass in this section. Various items are shown to me which might have been made around here. I am always interested in seeing old glass items but cannot judge them as to age or worth.

They say there was a Woodstock Glass Manufactory during the war of 1812, also an Ulster Glass Factory which was later absorbed by New York Crown and Cylinder Glass Co. about 1820. In 1860 there is mention in the census of the Ellenville, New York Glass Co. There was also the Honesdale Glass factory built in 1872 and demolished around 1902. Two companies went broke operating it. It was one of Honesdale's oldest industries, they said. Glass was first made there in 1816 by six Germans. The plant burned in 1848. It was said a large shipment of glass went to California but they went broke waiting to get their money. James Brookfield finally ran it successfully from 1849 to 1861 but then came along a flood and swept it away. Honesdale was well-known to Rondout as they were at each end of the famous D. and H. Canal.

Those readers who have old flasks or glass bottles I would like to refer you to an excellent article illustrated in fine colored pictures in this month's, (December) True magazine. It is photographed by D. B. Eisendrath Jr. He also gives pictures of the modern liquor bottles and one can see how they try to follow through from the old styles. He advises that one should not toss his empty decanter away after the liquor is gone for this year's Christmas bottle may be worth far more empty than when filled, that is if kept intact a half a century.

True magazine has gathered some of the most unique bottles in the country, they write in the article, which they picture here. Some are worth as high as $150 and some are so rare that they are priceless. Historically they say that much of America's cultural and political history can be traced through old bottles. "Before the advent of modern, mass-produced glassware, manufacturers were quick to seize upon current trends and popular feelings for translation into colorful and highly individualistic flasks . . . Early bottles were almost never thrown away, chiefly because of the expense of the early handmade glass, and because a man grew attached to his personal flask. A drinker bought his flask and kept having it refilled from barrels and casks at his local whiskey merchant's.

Among the items shown is "one of the most sought-after collector's items the E. G. Booz log cabin bottle, introduced in 1860 during the Harrison-Tyler campaign. An original Booz bottle is worth up to $150 today." They show several flasks, made in the 1815-1860 era for Masonic groups, which was a custom of making bottles for special groups." The War of 1812 started the U. S. glass industry booming." Then after the Civil War 'nice people' so article says, drank 'bitters' which labels promised to cure anything, but "Pure Food Act of 1906 killed the bitters business." Bottles shown are in various colors in shapes of fish, people, corn, shoes, Elk's Tooth for 1900 Convention. The GAR had a comemorative bottle for their 1895 reunion.

Life Beyond the Grave No. 1

Funerals 'Barbaric' to Actress, Says They Emphasize Negative Side of Death

Editor's Note—Funerals, lovely Deborah Kerr thinks, are "barbaric" because they emphasize death's negative side. But the "real I" will live on and return to oneness with God, the famed actress believes. This is the first of three articles by distinguished leaders on life beyond the grave.

By DEBORAH KERR

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Recently my secretary, who had been with me most of the 11 years I have been in America, died after a long illness. I pondered how to break the news to my two daughters, who had been very close to her.

The girls' nurse came into the room while I was talking with Melanie, my 9-year-old, and said, "The funeral will be on Monday."

"What funeral?" asked Melanie, her eyes bright with interest. Francesca is 5, and not quite so curious.

"Vivian's, dear," I told her. "You know how she has been ill for a long time. Well, she has died."

Spirit Will Stay

Melanie thought for a moment, then said, "Oh, well, she will always be with us."

"That's right, dear," I said, surprised and happy with her reply. "Her spirit will always be with us."

What a wonderful reaction to death! I thought. Not many of us can view death with such wholesome clarity. Usually it is the very young or the very old.

My dear father-in-law has utterly no fear of dying. "What a relief it will be!" he exclaims. "No children to worry about. No grandchildren to climb all over me. No newspapers to read with pages filled of cruelty and destruction!"

Funerals make death seem odious. I think they are barbaric. I don't want people moaning and weeping when I'm gone. I'd rather have them open a bottle of champagne and remember the good times we'd had.

But society insists on imposing grief when death comes. I can remember how shocked my grandparents were when my mother refused to wear mourning clothes after my father died in 1934.

"He never liked me in black," she told them. "I look terrible in black and I won't wear it."

She was right. She insisted on keeping his memory as he was when he was alive. As a result, I look back on my father and his passing with nothing but pleasant memories.

Because of this fear of death, most of us grow up and become adults without facing the issue of what happens to us when we die. We suspend our judgment. Perhaps it is just as well, because we don't have the intelligence to cope with the question.

All Must Face It

But there comes a time when we have to face it.

That's when our children come in one day and ask, "Where do people go when they die?"

As my children have been growing up, I have tried to form answers to their questions about life and death and God. Certainly they are not THE answers, and I hesitate to set them down in print—that should be the realm for thinkers like Albert Schweitzer and Bertrand Russell. But since The Associated Press has asked me, here they are.

When Melanie asks me what it's like after death, I try to put it in terms she can understand. And children nowadays are crazy about outer space.

"Supposing you take a rocket 80,000 miles into space," I tell her. "When you get up there, you'd have a feeling that all is space. There's no end, is there?"

"No, there is no end," she says, her mind playing with the idea.

"Then that's how it must be when we die," I reason. "There is no beginning and there is no end. We have no sense of time, no sense of living."

Man Never Dies

I firmly believe that. I can't conceive that we are merely a seed that is planted on this earth, grows up and dies. Man is immortal. He never dies. He simply IS.

We find it hard to face dying because we want our identities to live on after the death of the body. What we fear to lose is merely the ego, the false I. This ego fearfully awaits oblivion.

But that is ridiculous. The real I will live on. Rather, it will return to the oneness with God. That is true immortality.

The trouble is that man has created God in his image. We think of him as a nice old gent with a gold beard and white robes who sits up in the clouds. This reflects our mistaken love of the ego, the human form.

Our bodies are not US. If they were, part of our consciousness would be lost if we cut off an arm. Nor are we just brains. If we were, the brain could work without the body.

We want to carry our forms into the next existence. But there's no logic in that. How could we look the same as we do on earth? At what age? What about babies and deformed people who die? Are they stuck forever with the way they looked at death? Obviously not.

Everyone wants to know where they'll go after death. I think they go everywhere. God is in every one of us. When we die, we are freed of the limitations of the body and return to God. We become part of all space, all time, all form.

Will we meet our friends and loved ones?

Certainly. Because we will all be one—all part of the eternal mind, God.

A line from "The Proud and The Profane" sticks in my mind. The Marine stands in the graveyard and says, "Everybody tries to teach us how to live. Why don't they teach us how to die?"

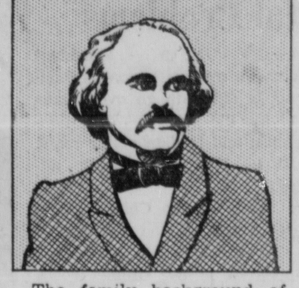

Perhaps one day we shall learn. Maybe not in my time, or my daughters' time or their children's. But I believe we may be on the threshold of great new discoveries about the nature of our existence.

Even in our generation, we have had to change our thinking about what reality is. We know that matter isn't solid stuff at all, but constantly moving morsels of energy.

Perhaps, through science, future generations may be able to realize death for what it is—a great adventure.

Tomorrow: Science and immortality.

Matter of FACT

The family background of the 19th-century novelist, Nathaniel Hawthorne, supplied plenty of material from which to weave his fascinating stories. Among his ancestors there was one who persecuted the Quakers. Another dealt with the so-called witches of Salem, Mass., the town where Hawthorne was born. Both his father and his grandfather were world sailors. Hawthorne's father died on a voyage to India when Nathaniel was four.

Ave Names Brill To Thruway Post

Clinton B. F. Brill, a New York City engineer, has been named chairman of the Thruway Authority, a post to which the name of a local resident had been linked earlier this year.

Last August Raymond W. Garraghan, of 10 Kiersted Avenue, was prominently mentioned as a possibility for the chairmanship.

Garraghan at the time was said to have the backing of the Ulster County Democratic Committee and appeared to have the inside track for the Albany job, local reports indicated.

Still One Vacancy

Gov. Averell Harriman yesterday announced that Brill, who was named to the chairmanship, also will become state construction czar.

The other member of the Thruway Authority is Republican R. Burdell Bixby of Hudson, who practices law in New York City. There was no announcement from the governor on an appointee for the remaining post.

The governor said Brill would serve, in addition to his Thruway post, as a special assistant on the state's construction program, including buildings as well as highways.

In this function he will work closely with the state superintendent of public works and the state budget director, Harriman said. The governor's office explained that Brill will coordinate the various building projects of the state.

$19,500 Year Job

Harriman's office said Brill was expected to take over the $19,500-a-year Thruway job about Jan. 1. David J. Martin of Rye, a Democrat, died Saturday, thus leaving the three-man authority with only one member. Martin had been acting chairman since Jan. 27, when Bertram D. Tallamy, a Republican, resigned to become federal highway administrator.

Brill, 64, is a managing partner in the engineering firm of DeLeuw, Cather and Brill. The Harriman spokesman said that Brill was not enrolled in a political party and that his party inclinations, if any, were not known.

The governor described Brill as "a distinguished engineer of wide experience." He said Brill was familiar with the Thruway and other state construction work, some of which his firm designed.

From 1936 through 1939, he was assistant liaison engineer with the New York world's fair. During World War I he served in the Army Corps of Engineers and was responsible for design and construction of two 1,000-bed hospitals in California.

Helped Thruway Job

His engineering firm designed and supervised construction of 20 miles of the Catskill section of the Thruway, 15 miles of the Garden State Parkway and widening of part of the New Jersey Turnpike. He also worked on the Kensington Expressway in Buffalo, the Taconic State Parkway and the Massachusetts Turnpike.

Brill was designated as an interim appointee. Harriman is expected to send his name to the Senate for confirmation when it convenes in January, but Brill may take office and serve before the Senate acts.

Harriman could nominate him at that time for either of the two vacant authority seats. All terms run for nine years. The term vacated by Tallamy runs to Jan. 1, 1960.

Martin's term on the authority actually expired last Jan. 1. He was not reappointed by Harriman but continued to serve until a successor was named.

An appointee in Martin's place would move into a term expiring Jan. 1, 1966.

Two Area Hunters Fined for Violations

Two area men paid fines of $12.50 each on Monday for hunting violations.

They were George Haynes, 67, of 41 Howland Avenue, and Edward Carson, 48, of Hurley Heights.

Both were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Millard Davis of the town of Ulster on a charge of carrying loaded rifles in their cars. The suits were settled on a civil basis.

The arrests were by Cpl. Edward Shannon, BCI, and Trooper Charles Teelon of the Kingston state police.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held within a narrow price range today, unable to decide whether to go up or down.

In the early afternoon trends were still mixed, as they had been all morning. Most price changes were limited to less than a point. Volume was below yesterday.

The aircraft - missile division continued to be actively traded, particularly North American Aviation. There was one 10,000 share block in this stock at 31, off ¾. It was at that level around noon.

Grumman aircraft featured the division with a gain in excess of 2 points on an unconfirmed rumor that it would be awarded a large order for an early warning radar device system.

General Tire, actively engaged in missiles and rockets through its subsidiary, Aerojet-General, rose about ½ point to a new 1957 high. Martin was slightly ahead. It makes the Vanguard rocket, scheduled to launch the first U. S. satellite tomorrow.

In the rail section, which was weaker than either industrials or utilities, Western Maryland fell more than 3 points after directors declared the first dividend on the common since the stock was issued in 1917. Traders apparently expected more than the 75 cents declared.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cents at $158.60 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 40 cents and the utilities unchanged.

American Stock Exchange stocks were mixed in moderately active trading.

Corporate bonds moved higher on fair volume.

Ike, Leaders In Session on Vital Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower met with congressional leaders today to go over plans for solving the problems of national defense and foreign policy made critical by Russian scientific advances.

The recuperating Chief Executive got a warm round of applause from key men of both parties as he appeared in the cabinet room to take the chair for the briefing session.

Half an hour earlier Eisenhower received from his physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, another report of continuing excellent progress in his recovery from the mild stroke which he suffered a week ago yesterday.

In Office Early

Eisenhower was in his office three-quarters of an hour ahead of the congressional conference. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he was there giving a final check - over to matters to be brought up at the session.

Just before the briefing itself got under way, Eisenhower had a 10-minute talk with Adlai Stevenson, the Democrat whom Eisenhower twice defeated for the presidency. Eisenhower called in Stevenson as a consultant on America's program to be presented at the North Atlantic alliance meeting opening in Paris Dec. 16.

Stevenson, invited to the session with the congressional leaders, was accompanied to the White House by Secretary of State Dulles. The secretary sat in on the talk with Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, after once seeing his plans to attend the Paris session all but written off on account of his seizure, now is awaiting word from his doctors on whether he can go there after all.

The White House session today is one of an annual series, called to fill in the leaders of both parties on the administration program for the coming year in the foreign policy and national defense fields.

31 Invited

A special item on the schedule this year is a preview of proposals for the NATO meeting, which comes only about two weeks before Congress goes back into business.

Thirty-one leaders from Congress were invited and all but two —Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Rep. McCormack (D - Mass)— were on hand when Eisenhower walked into the cabinet room from his nearby office at 9:06 a. m. McCormack arrived a few minutes later and Saltonstall turned up in another few minutes.

Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, reported that when Eisenhower entered the cabinet room "he was greeted with a round of applause by the bipartisan group." The President smiled in acknowledgement.

In addition to the leaders, Stevenson and Dulles, those present included Secretary of Defense McElroy and Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Want Drastic Action

Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, also was on hand. So was Lewis Strauss, chairman of the atomic energy commission.

In advance of the meeting, Sen. Russell (D-Ga) and some other influential members of the Capitol delegation made it plain they will not be satisfied with anything less than drastic action to speed U. S. missile and satellite development in the face of the Communist challenge.

"There is no doubt in my mind that we are behind the Soviets in everything but short range missiles," said Russell, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. "We can catch up only if the executive branch will get behind our program and make it move."

AMA Head Sees Freedom Peril

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. David B. Allman, president of the American Medical Association, today urged the nation's organized doctors to fight a "new peril" to their professional freedom.

He called upon all 165,000 AMA members to wage a "local-action campaign" to enlist support of their communities against proposed national legislation which he declared would, if passed, mark "the beginning of the end of the private practice of medicine" in this country.

Specifically, he urged the doctors to campaign against a proposal introduced in the closing session of the 85th congress by Rep. Aime Forand (D-RI).

Under the Forand bill, hospitalization and surgical benefits would be provided under the social security program.

In his presidential address, prepared for the AMA's 11th annual clinical session, and presented at the opening session of the AMA's policy-making house of delegates, the Atlantic City retired surgeon declared:

"If passed, the federal government would withdraw social security taxes on a compulsory basis from almost the entire working population and use those taxes to reimburse hospitals and physicians for services rendered to all persons—some 12 to 13 million—eligible to receive old age and survivors benefits."

"This," he added, "is socialized medicine. This is. . .national compulsory health insurance all over again. A decade later perhaps and for a limited number of people but it is 'cut from the same cloth' and, I am sure, emanates from the same minds.

"It is the beginning of the end of the private practice of medicine."

Crime Probe

nor to do it and pointed out to him his derelictions. If he doesn't act, we may. Who knows?"

Carlino, in sponsoring the resolution, said:

"Our county district attorneys are attempting at the local level to meet the threat of invisible government and organized crime. This piecemeal approach has not proved adequate. This is a statewide problem requiring statewide action."

'Political Gestapo'

Carlino said the governor is using the state division of investigation as a "political gestapo."

"One would think from an examination of the commissioner's activities that his jurisdiction was limited by statute to Republican communities," Carlino added.

Carlino said Reuter has passed up scandals in a number of departments in Democratic New York City—including the department of buildings and the city housing authority, as well as irregularities in the city council and the bureau of real estate.

Complaining that Harriman is failing to make proper use of the powers of Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz' office, Carlino implied that this is because Lefkowitz is a Republican.

Carlino charged a "disheartening and brazen resurgence of the crime syndicate and lawlessness generally."

Local 'Matters Minor'

The Kingston probe by State Commissioner of Investigations Arthur L. Reuter would come under the classification of "minor matters," according to the Republican-sponsored resolution.

The local probe, which has been in progress for some weeks, is reported from headquarters at the local armory to be progressing satisfactorily. There is no indication, however, how long the investigation will continue.

Following a grand jury investigation of corruption in the local police department, 11 indictments were returned. A petition was sent to the Governor, signed by a number of citizens, asking that an extraordinary session of the Supreme Court be called and a prosecutor appointed to supersede District Attorney Howard C. St. John in the conduct of the investigation.

The Governor directed Reuter to begin a preliminary investigation to determine if a complete probe should be ordered.

Driving With Wives

Burkey and Grahn, with their wives, were driving near Calais, about 250 miles northeast of Edmonton, when the shooting occurred. Mrs. Grahn said she and her husband were driving behind the Burkey car when it pulled to a halt.

"I saw Mr. Burkey step from his car bleeding from the arm," she told a reporter. "My husband thought he must have been shot by hunters."

Mrs. Grahn said her husband blew the horn to warn hunters from shooting, then stepped from the car to aid Burkey.

"Suddenly I heard another shot and he fell to the road," Mrs. Grahn said.

Police said quick application of tourniquets by Mrs. Grahn probably saved the wounded men's lives.

DOLLARS TO LEEWARD

Tom Hurd got a check for $25,000 the other day from a big insurance company. He carried it around in his pocket for two days and must have looked at it 50 times. He wanted to have it framed. It's the most money he has ever had at one time in his life.

Thrift and saving do have their own rewards. Back in 1932, when Tom was 41 years old and the depression was at its height, he received an unexpected fee of $2,000. If economic conditions had not been tough at the time, he would have spent the money quickly. But the adverse times caused him to think.

He asked himself: "If I don't spend the money, what shall I do with it?"

A Chartered Life Underwriter had the right answer: "With some of the money, buy a $25,-000 twenty-five-year endowment policy that will mature when you retire." And the maturing policy has just been paid.

Contract Disciplines Him

By nature Tom isn't thrifty. But every year for over two decades the necessity of paying the premium on that policy has forced thrift upon him. This one insurance contract has disciplined a life which might easily have become very wasteful and extravagant. It has been a financial anchor to him and to his family.

Tom at age 66 is in robust health. He looks good for 25 years more. Now the question is, what will he do with this money?

Tom reads this column. He can buy common stocks or preferred equities. But at age 66, he wants values which have stood up like his insurance. In recent months he has read here that tight money has forced bond prices down.

He wrote to the insurance company to ask for the booklet listing the investments the company owns. And then he spent two evenings carefully examining the hundreds of different bonds—government, state, municipal, railroad, public utility, industrial — this company had bought to make good on its outstanding insurance contracts.

Purchases Six

He selected 25. Then, slowly and thoughtfully, he eliminated 19 of them, leaving six to be purchased with his $25,000.

Here is the list:

1. $5,000 U. S. Government 3 per cent bonds due in 1995.
2. $5,000 American Telephone and Telegraph 2¾s due in 1982.
3. $5,000 Pennsylvania Railroad 4¼s due in 1981.
4. $5,000 Northern Pacific 3s due in 2047.
5. $5,000 Ohio Edison 2¾s due in 1975.
6. $5,000 New York Central 5s due in 2013.

These $30,000 bonds cost him $22,500. They will pay him $1,037.50 a year. The insurance company that sent him a never-to-be-forgotten check for $25,000 owns millions of these bonds, and they cost the insurance company considerably more than Tom paid for them.

He will be a coupon clipper the rest of his life. And he will take comfort in knowing he bought $30,000 of good and excellent grade obligations at an average cost of 75 cents on the dollar. On a cost basis, his yield will be almost 5 per cent.

I write of Tom's experience during these "tight" money times hoping that many readers who need more income will benefit from his courage and study.

Benson to Stay On Job: Benson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today that despite political criticism he intends to remain in his present job and to continue to battle for his farm policy views.

In a dramatic news conference, Benson read a lengthy statement designed, he said, to clear the air of speculation regarding his tenure and possible changes in administration farm programs.

Speaking firmly and with emphasis, Benson said he wanted to make a statement "not of resignation—but one of resolution."

Benson then restated his previously outlined farm policies and said he intended to fight for them at the coming session of Congress.

Man Found Shot To Death in Car

STONY POINT (AP) — A man about 25 years old was found shot to death in an automobile parked in a secluded area near here early today. State police said it appeared to be a suicide but there were some puzzling aspects to the case.

There was no identification of any kind on the man, and there were no license plates on the car.

The man died from gunshot wounds and a .22 caliber rifle was found in the car with the body.

State Police Inspector J. W. Sayers of the Hawthorne barracks said he received this information from troopers at the scene.

Sayers said he was informed the car was parked in a wooded area at the end of a dead end road, about 200 yards from Moh Farms Road, and that the man had been dead about 8 to 10 hours.

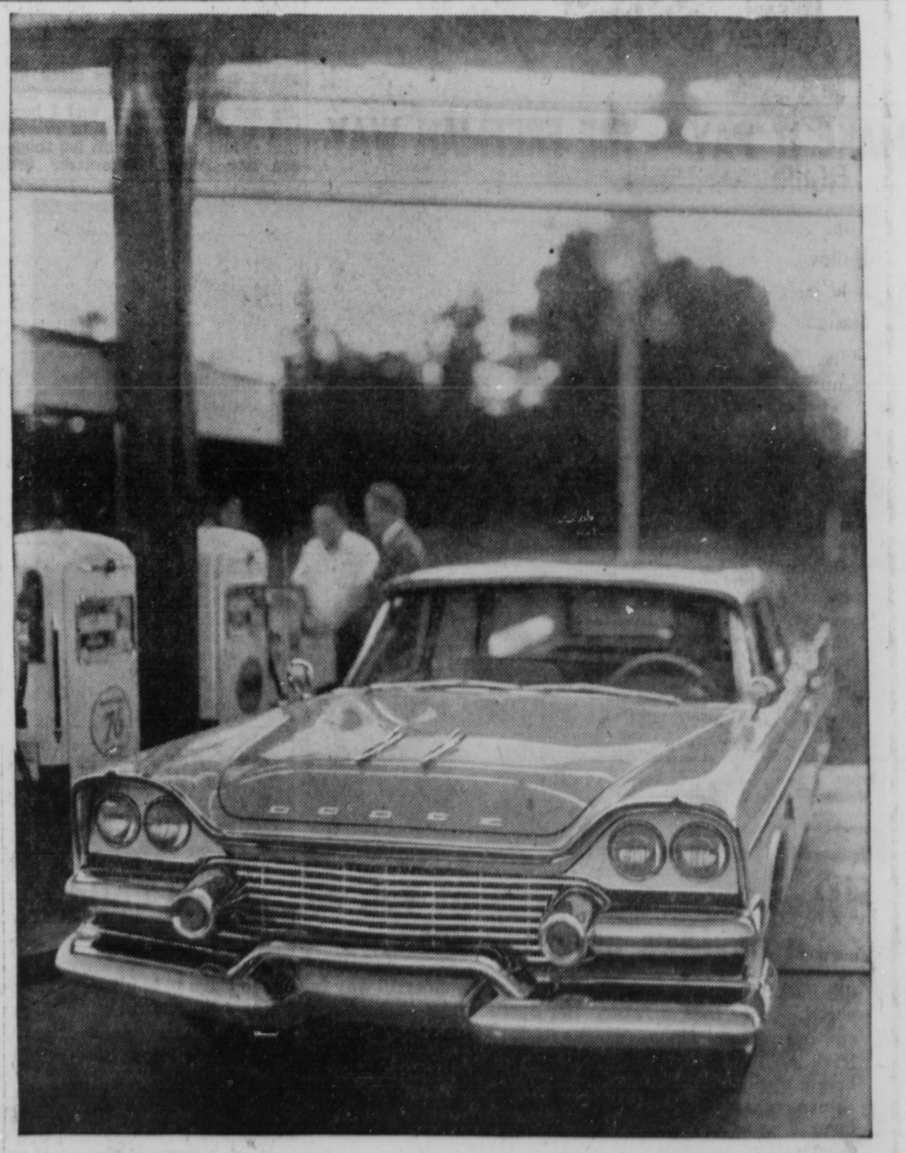

An inspection sticker on the front windshield, partially scraped off, led police to believe the car was from New Jersey.

Sayers described the man as about 5 foot 7 and weighing 140 to 145 pounds. He had brown hair and eyes, and was wearing light tortoise shell glasses.

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT . . . " seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

MEXICO'S NEXT Adolfo Lopez Mateos, labor minister in the present Mexican government, sports a big smile after he was nominated for the presidency by the Institutional Revolutionary party at their convention in Mexico City. Mateos, 47, is almost certain to win the 1958 election. The Institutional Revolutionary party has won every election since 1917. If elected, he will succeed President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. Under Mexican law a president is elected for six years and is thereafter ineligible.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—With 1957 entering the last lap of the business race today the news picture of the year becomes clearer. Barring a late starting dark horse, here are the 10 top business news stories of the year—just one man's opinion.

1. Stock market didos. Not so much because the significance of the market's many ups and downs as because they have dramatized —not always rightly—the other big stories of 1957. From a peak in July stock prices skidded to a low in October and have mostly see-sawed since.

2. The long boom ends. The biggest business climb in American history faltered early in the year, first leveling off and then by summer definitely taking a breather, in President Eisenhower's words. When the expected fall pickup didn't come, businessmen began wondering how much of a dip was ahead and for how long.

3. The cost of living. Inflation ruled the first nine months of the year with prices on consumer goods rising steadily. In October there was a breather here, too, but still higher prices were feared before 1957 fades.

4. The President's health. The market reacted quickly — first, down when he suffered a slight stroke; up, when he recovered quickly. As the year ends the question is how soon will he be back on the job and how much of the job are others likely to shoulder.

5. Sputnik. The Russian satellite was a scientific marvel with big military implications. The effect on business, aside from the psychological, was the boost that increased defense spending later on may give the economy. The question—will it help end any recession ahead.

6. Tight money. Businessmen, especially the smaller ones, complained that expansion plans were hamstrung.

7. Unemployment. Rising a little in the fall it ends the year still increasing and with more jobless expected before spring.

8. Profits. Although still over-all a bit higher than in 1956, corporate profits have been slowing down in their upward pace. Higher costs of labor, materials, transportation and merchandizing have tended to rise faster than sales volume, even at the new consumer prices. The squeeze on profit margins was a major problem of business at year's end.

9. Construction. The record business expansion boom has bolstered the economy all year, but industry was pulling in its horns toward the end and planning less for next year. Home building, on the other hand, has trailed this year but shows signs of picking up in 1958. Public spending is on the increase and may offset the dip in business expansion plans.

10. Metals. Prices of steel and aluminum rose. Prices of most other metal fell sharply. Output of steel slipped well below capacity, and the nonferrous metals also felt the drop in demand. Foreign competition was a big news story during the year and growing as 1957 draws to an end.

The only 1958 car that offers more of everything you want... yet is priced lower than in '57

Here's great news! While prices of 1958 cars of other manufacturers are up, the price of Ford's exciting new Custom 300 Series is down. In fact, a brand-new 58 Ford Custom 300 with all of its exciting new styling and engineering advances is priced lower than a '57 model, similarly equipped! But there is much more than low price to Ford's value story.

World approved styling. A Custom 300 brings you styling that is dramatically new. With its Honeycombed grille, Slipstream roof, Deep-Sculptured rear deck, Power-Flow hood and Safety-Twin headlights and taillights, Ford styling drew admiring glances all the way from Paris to Saigon ... yet it's yours now in any Custom 300 without extra cost!

New handling ease. Slide behind the wheel of a Custom 300 and discover just how much fun driving can be. Notice how smoothly it handles. That's Ford's new feather-touch Magic-Circle steering, the next best thing to power steering.

New riding comfort. Notice, too, the solid comfort of your softer, smoother ride. That's Ford's easier acting front and rear suspensions. They soak up the bumps before they reach you. And you'll ride in luxury with Ford's beautiful new deep-dimension interiors!

Thrifty, new engines. You have a wonderful choice of new power plants, designed for real gas-saving economy plus greater performance. Six or V-8, they give you more power, smoother power, from less gas!

Priced as much as $50 lower. A comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail delivered prices shows that a 58 Ford Custom 300 is priced as much as $50 less than the same model for '57! You'll wonder how Ford can offer so many of the things you want in a car priced so low. One big reason: Ford gives you more car for less money because Ford sells more!

See and drive a Custom 300 and you'll agree that these Fords give you more value for your car-buying dollars than any car on the American road today.

Priest Cited

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — A priest who doubles as a ham radio operator has been cited by the American Radio Relay League for his part in handling emergency messages during a blizzard.

The Rev. Fidelis V. Filipek, chaplain at St. Vincent's Catholic Hospital here, received the "public service" certificate after extensive investigation by the league.

Father Filipek was chaplain at St. John's Hospital, Huron, S. D., when a blizzard struck the Dakotas and Nebraska early in April of 1956. He spent nearly all his time during a two-day period keeping in contact with other operators relaying messages to emergency personnel. Regular communication lines were down at the time.

'Judas Tree' Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—The John Day novel award, given in conjunction with the Creative Writers Fund of the New School for Social Research, has been won this year by "The Judas Tree," a manuscript by Helen Upshaw, of the New School.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A producer of science fiction sagas offers this as Hollywood's mission in the national emergency: Glamorizing the American scientist.

"I think it could be very important," says William Alland. "We have done it before with other professions and with the services. The thing to do now is give the U. S. scientist some glamor. Make him appear dashing and important, so kids will want to be like him.

Films Can Help

"After all, President Eisenhower pointed out in his recent speech the need to interest young people in science. I believe films can help show how important and exciting science can be."

Alland, a dark, active man with a vivid imagination, is one of the more astute creators in his field. He made such winners as "It Came From Outer Space," "This Island Earth" and "Tarantula" for U-I. Now he's producing independently for Paramount.

He said situations in his movies may become weird, "but all the premises start with scientific fact. That I think is what makes the difference between a good science fiction picture and a bad one: whether or not the premise is based in fact."

Alland's experience as a scare-master goes back to his association with Orson Welles at the time of the "Men From Mars" broadcast on radio.

Not Too Many Films

Does he think there are too many space movies on the market?

"I don't think there will ever be too many good ones," he said pointedly, indicating his scorn for the get-rich-quick producers who make their chillers on a shoestring and run.

He mentioned the Fox picture, "The Day The Earth Stood Still," and the George Pal films, especially "Destination Moon," as examples of good science fiction. They have helped intrigue the public with events that don't seem quite so fantastic, in light of recent events.

Double Creates Added Hazard

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Larceny Lou did not like the bidding. He never likes it when the opponents bid a slam against him. It also occurred to him that the slam should make. He did not like the position of his king of clubs in front of the opening club bid.

Strong measures seemed necessary and Lou decided that a double might cause South to go wrong.

Lou's next step was to open the four of clubs. Without the double South might well have taken the bull by the horns and let the lead run around to his queen but South was positive that Lou had to be leading a short suit.

South went up with Dummy's ace, ruffed a club in his own hand, cashed the king of spades and led a spade to dummy's ace.

At this point Lou showed out of spades and South realized that he had been bamboozled. Unfortunately for him there was nothing more he could do about it. He went up with the ace, ruffed another club, ruffed a heart in dummy and ruffed a fourth club with his last trump.

He still had some faint hope of making the hand. Perhaps the queen of diamonds would drop or maybe the defense would slip somewhere.

He got back to dummy with a diamond and played a club. East ruffed right away and simply shot a heart back. Lou did have that ace and played it to force dummy's last trump. Dummy's little diamond was still a losing trick and Lou's double had paid off.

Of course, South might have gone down without the double. Also he might have made the hand. We will never know.

Blaze of Glory Heralds Entrance of Fruitcake

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a glorious presentation for Christmas dinner—a rich fruitcake served in bursts of flame. Sound difficult and tricky? Not at all. Just dip cubes of sugar in lemon or orange extract enough to moisten. Arrange them around the cake, then ignite and serve forth in glamor.

The cake recipe is rich with dried fruits and kept moist only with the eggs. It can be eaten the day it is made, or kept for later use.

ALL EYES will be centered on this Bethlehem fruitcake surrounded by flaming cubes of sugar dipped in lemon extract.

Bethlehem Fruitcake
(Makes about 5¼ pounds cake)

Two cups light raisins, 2 cups dark raisins, 2 cups walnuts, 1 cup blanched almonds, 1½ cups butter or margarine, 1¾ cups sugar, 6 eggs, 3¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cloves, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 1½ cups finely cut citron, 1½ cups diced candied orange peel, ½ cup thoroughly drained, crushed pineapple, 2 teaspoons vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract.

Rinse raisins, drain, and dry thoroughly. Chop walnuts and almonds. Cream butter, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Blend in beaten eggs. Sift flour with salt, soda, and spices; add to creamed mixture, blending well. Stir in raisins, nuts, citron, peel, pineapple and flavorings. Place in a greased paper-lined 9-inch tube pan. Bake in a slow over 300 degrees F.) about 3¼ hours. Test with cake tester or pick before removing from oven.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato and grapefruit juice, broiled chicken, sauteed fresh mushrooms, frozen whipped potatoes, canned peas, enriched bread, butter or margarine, canned peaches, raisin-walnut cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Close Call

FORT THOMAS, Ky. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy who lost his right eye after an accident feels he is really lucky.

James Gasright was poked in the eye accidentally by a coat hanger in a coat room at a dance. The eye had to be removed at St. Luke's Hospital.

But the lad is glad it wasn't his good one. The eye removed has been sightless since birth.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—John Crosby, a critic of television performance for 11 years, is taking with aplomb all criticism of his own performance as host of "The Seven Lively Arts" (CBS-TV), Sundays, 5 p. m.)

He has achieved this admirable state of detachment, he confesses, after passing through a rough period upon first reading the remarks of some critics about performer Crosby in the opening program of the series.

"I went into a state of shock," he said the other day. "I took to my bed and I was going to stay there. But, after a couple of days, I began to be sort of amused by the situation.

Easily Recognized

"I remembered something Fred Allen once told me in the early days of television. He said that the trouble with television as compared to radio was that, in radio, you could at least get home safely after a performance without anybody recognizing you. But in television everybody recognizes you the minute you leave the studio."

Crosby believes that his work as a performer is helpful in his job as a New York Herald Tribune syndicated critic.

"I'm more inclined to think of how a performer feels about criticism," he said. "But I'm also learning a lot of technical things about television and the way things should be done. That could make you a tougher critic."

Over Rehearsed

Some critics have tried to make much of the fact that Crosby blew his opening lines on the first program. His explanation: "I was over-rehearsed. I wrote the lines myself, but I went over them so often that they began to mean nothing even to me."

Crosby has an authoritative voice in what "The Seven Lively Arts" plans and executes. "At least I'm on the production staff. I make suggestions and sometimes they listen to me. I believe that there's no point in our tackling anything unless I say something."

He was inclined to agree with this critic's criticism of the program's examination of revivalism: that it lacked a point of view, that Crosby or somebody failed to say "something." Next Sunday, by the way, when the program presents Robert Herridge's production on jazz, Crosby does not plan to indulge in heavy commentary "because jazz should be listened to instead of talked about."

Owl Watch

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—The imitation owl bought to scare the pigeons off city hall was effective, but only to a point.

When the owl, with two sets of eyes, fore and aft, was put in the middle of the roof, the pigeons just retreated to the edge. Now the city is going to buy three more plastic owls — one for each corner of the roof.

Cadillac

A Masterpiece ... Even by Cadillac Standards!

The Cadillac car for 1958 is, clearly, a masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac . . . a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no adequate precedent insofar as beauty and majesty are concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line, in its tasteful use of chrome and color, and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury in a single interior design.

And, most assuredly, it has set its own pace in modern motor car performance. Its dynamic new engine, its more responsive transmission, its improved power steering and its new air suspension, now available as an extra-cost option, are simply a revelation.

In the way it looks, in the way it rides, and in the way it drives—this is Cadillac's finest!

We earnestly hope that you will take the time to investigate all three aspects of this magnificent new Cadillac very soon.

Your Cadillac dealer will be delighted to give you full details on Cadillac's twelve new models, including the incomparable Eldorado Brougham. You will be most welcome at any time.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES W. LEWIS

Ethel Vitarius Weds Charles W. Lewis In Double Ring Ceremony November 30

Miss Ethel Elizabeth Vitarius, daughter of Mrs. John Vitarius of Port Ewen and the late Mr. Vitarius became the bride of Charles W. Lewis, son of Mrs. Mamie A. Lewis of Gallatin, Tenn., and the late Capt. Charles A. Lewis, on Saturday, Nov. 30, at 3 p. m. in the Port Ewen Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mark Opliger officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Rebecca Hughes was at the organ. Soloist for the occasion was Mrs. Mark Opliger.

White gladioli, pompons and carnations decorated the church. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John Vitarius. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace over bridal satin, styled with an enlongated waist, scoop neckline outlined with seed pearls and sequins, long tapered sleeves and a full waltz length skirt. A French imported silk illusion veil was secured to a bridal cap of lace, pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and gardenias.

Mrs. Edward Vitarius of Sleightsburg was the matron of honor. She wore a crystallette gown of salmon pink with emerald green shoes and an emerald green Juliet cap. She carried a cascade of shaded bronze and yellow, mums and foliage.

Mrs. Jules Vitarius served as the attendant. She was attired in a gown identical to that worn by the honor attendant. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and bronze mums with foliage.

Wesley Clark of Port Ewen was the best man. Jules Vitarius, brother of the bride, was the usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride for the immediate families.

Mrs. Lewis was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed as a secretary by IBM in Kingston. Her husband was graduated from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., with a BE in Electrical Engineering. He is a member of Sigma Nu, social fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi, honorary society. Mr. Lewis is employed as an electrical engineer by IBM but is now slated to complete his service for the army at a post in Alaska as a second lieutenant.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride chose to wear a light blue wool dress, white hat, black coat with black and white accessories. She also wore a corsage of Phalaenopsis orchids.

The couple will make their home in Port Ewen.

Rosary Society Plans Annual Yule Dinner

St. Mary's Rosary Society will hold its annual Christmas dinner on Tuesday, Dec. 10, at 7 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 389 Broadway.

Mrs. George Bruck, chairman of the event, has named the following members to serve on the committee. They are Mrs. A. R. Gafney, co-chairman; the Mmes. John Bittner, Leo Buboltz, Sam Clausi, John Fabiano, James Gilpatric, Michael Hargrove, Frank Morrello and Miss Agnes Noonan.

Tickets may be obtained from the prefects or from any member of the committee. Deadline for reservations has been set for Thursday, Dec. 5.

Everyone attending is asked to bring a gift for the tree.

Elizabeth Ann Brophy Wed in Double Ring Ceremony to Frank Robert Nardi Jr. Here

Miss Elizabeth Ann Brophy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brophy of 149 O'Neil Street, became the bride of Frank Robert Nardi Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nardi Sr., of 75 Henry Street, on Sunday, Nov. 24 at 2:30 p. m. in St. Joseph's Church.

The Rev. James Keating officiated. Mrs. Frank Rafferty was at the organ. Robert Gallo was the soloist.

White chrysanthemums decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a waltz length nylon gown over net and taffeta. The gown was styled with a Sabrina neckline. A French illusion veil was gathered to nylon crown headpiece. The bride carried a prayer book with white roses and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Jeanne Brophy, served as the maid of honor. She wore a turquoise velvet gown with matching headpiece. She carried pink roses and pink carnations.

Vincent Nardi, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed in the office of Trailway Bus Company. Her husband, a Kingston High School graduate, is employed as a junior draftsman by Graphic Techniques.

The couple, who left on a wedding trip to New York City, will make their home in Port Ewen when they return. For her trip, the bride wore a brown wool sheath with brown accessories and a beige Chinchilla coat with a white orchid.

LOCKING DRAWERS TO GUESTS

Dear Mrs. Post: Could any offense be taken by a guest if I locked some of the drawers and the filing cabinet in our sitting room, which also converts into our only spare room? We don't want to run the risk of leaving even our friends know our personal affairs and these are all kept in this room.

Answer: Certainly no offense should be taken as long as you set apart several convenient drawers for her exclusive use and show her where these are. Even if she tries to open a locked drawer by mistake, it is unlikely that she would consider this a personal affront, because it is not at all unusual to keep certain drawers and files locked at all times.

Sending Birth Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a great many "afternoon" friends with whom I play bridge and see at the woman's club but whose husbands I have never met. Very soon I am going to be sending out baby announcements and I don't know whether I should address them to Mr. and Mrs. or to Mrs. alone. Will you please tell me the polite and proper thing to do?

Answer: According to your description, the answer is definitely "Mrs." alone.

Tactful Sympathy

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper thing to say, if anything, when seeing a person for the first time after that person has lost a loved one? One of the girls in my office who has just recently lost her mother will be coming back to the office soon and I would like to know what to say to her. She is a very emotional person and I'm afraid any mention of it might cause her to weep. Will you help me?

Answer: The only thing you can do is to give her a warm hand clasp and the less you say the better.

What does the well-dressed business woman wear? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but readers wishing an answer to the above question will find it in leaflet E-35, "The Well-Dressed Woman." Saratoga Blast May Hit Million Damage

SARATOGA SPRINGS (AP) — An explosion that followed a fire blew off the roof and burst part of a brick wall in a wing of the Saratoga Industries plant yesterday.

Company officials said damage might exceed one million dollars. There were no injuries reported.

The 400 employes in the main building of the radio equipment manufacturing plant were evacuated.

Ten men working in the finishing room in the wing battled the fire with hand extinguishers until they were forced to flee. Chemicals fed the flames.

The main plant was damaged by water and smoke.

Workmen said they believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion. It was brought under control in about three hours.

Saratoga Industries is a division of Espey Manufacturing Co.

MRS. HARLEY O. WEHRLY

Vinning - Wehrly Wedding Is Announced; Couple Plan to Make Home in Kingston

The Saugerties Baptist Church, Saugerties, formed the background for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ann Vinning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott O. Vining, of 140 Main Street, to Harley O. Wehrly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley V. Wehrly of Waukegan, Ill., on Monday, Nov. 25, at 6:30 p. m.

The Rev. Robert W. Vining, the bride's brother, who is pastor of the Sandy Creek Baptist Church, Sandy Creek, N. J., officiated at the double ring ceremony. Dr. Montreville Seely, pastor of the Saugerties Baptist Church, assisted.

Mrs. Gerald Finger was at the organ. Mrs. Joseph Loerzel was the soloist.

Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the church for the candlelight ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of lace over bridal satin, boat neckline edged in imported Chantilly lace, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists and a bouffant skirt of lace and tulle. A large satin bow bustle and cascading ruffles highlighted the skirt. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was gathered to a crown designed of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and gladioli.

Mrs. Donald Peterson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of royal blue fashioned with a fitted bodice and trimmed with white velvet. She also wore a white velvet hat with long white dress gloves, and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed pastel flowers.

Serving as flower girl was Ruth Finch in a petal pink frock of taffeta with a net overskirt. It was trimmed with pink velvet. Miss Finch carried a basket of red rose petals.

Best man was Gordon Craw of Saugerties. Serving as ushers were Donald Peterson, brother-in-law of the bride and Joseph Loerzel of Saugerties.

A reception was held in the Senate Room of the Kirkland Hotel.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Her husband, who was graduated from Waukegan Township High School, served four years with the Air Force as an electronic tecnician instructor. He is now employed by IBM as an instructor in field engineering.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride wore a blue knit suit with brown alligator accessories. She also wore a corsage of red roses.

The couple will make their home at 343 Washington Avenue.

Messiah to Be Sung at Old Dutch Church On December 8; Featured Soloists Named

MRS. GEORGE BOND

JOHN A. McCULLOUGH

The Senior Choir of Old Dutch Church, together with a large chorus made up of singers from the surrounding area will present Handel's "The Messiah" at Old Dutch Church Dec. 8 at 4 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. Willard Burke, minister of music at the church.

This performance will mark the third annual rendition of this inspiring oratorio by a community group of singers. The Christmas portion only, which describes the Christmas story, will be presented.

The final rehearsal will be held Saturday, December 7 at 4 p. m. at Old Dutch Church.

Soloists for the performance will be Mildred Bond, soprano; Collette Sonnenberg, alto; John McCullough, tenor and Richard Kuelling, bass. Mrs. William Rylance will be at the organ.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Bond studied with Alexander Crawford, well-known teacher and coach in Harrisburg, Pa. She is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College with a degree in music education. Recent appearances of Mrs. Bond included the oratorios "Elijah" and "Judas Maccabeus" with the college-community chorus of State Teachers College in New Paltz.

John A. McCullough, tenor, was born in Kingston and educated in the Kingston schools, and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy and is now a practicing architect in Kingston. While at Rensselaer, Mr. McCullough sang with the RPI glee club and was a member of the original quartet group known as the "Four Horsemen" which has perpetuated itself at the college each year since 1939.

Participating in the group are: sopranos Virginia Ackert, Judy Blair, Estella Brandstatter, Hermine Czinczoll, Dorothy Eckert, Willa Mae Edwards, Jean Gates, Carol Haulenbeek, Jane Ann Hyatt, Penelope Johnson, Donna Kittle, E. 1958 Tax Cuts Appear Doomed, Leaders Agree

WASINGTON (AP) — House leaders agreed today their hope for tax cuts next year is virtually dead.

Not one of a group interviewed on the subject saw any chance for lowering of the tax burden which many of them thought earlier this year might be eased in 1958.

"I don't think it looks very favorable for a significant reduction," said House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

"I don't think there's much chance to cut taxes," said Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House Republican leader.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee wouldn't comment on the prospects pending the start of hearings by his committee next month on general tax revision.

But Rep. Mills (D-Ark), second-ranking committee member, told the American Tax Foundation at a New York meeting yesterday that prospects for tax cuts were dim, although some adjustments might be in order.

The senior Republican on Cooper's committee, Rep. Reed of New York, said he would press for tax relief "just the minute" it appears possible. But he added that there would have to be a surplus of from two to three billion dollars in the Treasury before anything other than an "infinitesimal" cut could be made.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee agreed with most others that heavy defense spending next year would rule out tax cuts, and commented:

"Heavy taxes are what is balancing the budget now. You can't keep the budget balanced if you reduce taxes."

Bright Colors Best

Bedroom colors are important because they can affect the way you start the day. Dull, drab colors that greet a waking person can instill a feeling of dullness that is hard to shake. Bright, pleasant colors, however, give a cheery feeling to the day.

Add a few drops of kerosene and a little bluing to warm soapy water when you are washing windows. Gives extra sparkle!

Meany Scotches Move to Forego '58 Wage Boosts

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Labor union chiefs looked with general disfavor today on a proposal from one of their colleagues that unions help combat inflation by foregoing 1958 wage boosts.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, sent word through aides that he will personally scotch the idea in a speech to one of the several union groups meeting in advance of the AFL-CIO convention.

Other federation leaders generally disagreed with the plan put forward by President Richard J. Gray of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, claiming some 3½ million of the 15 million AFL-CIO members.

Gray, in a speech to his building trades group yesterday, called for loosened government credit policies to aid financing of all types of construction and suggested the wage moratorium to counter inflation. He said his plan would create more construction jobs.

But other AFL-CIO leaders were quick to hark back to the AFL-CIO's economic thesis that a high wage policy is good for the country by creating mass purchasing power to buy up production. Meany was expected to stress this.

In Detroit, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and AFL-CIO vice president, said he would not comment on the suggestion until he saw the text of Gray's remarks.

Reuther has announced that his union in 1958 contract negotiations will give top priority to demands for a shorter work week and a substantial increase in take-home pay.

Vertical Plane Gets Unveiling

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A VTOL (vertical takeoff and landing) airplane looking like a bird with a turned up nose and its wing tips broken was unveiled here yesterday by Ryan Aeronautical Co.

Ryan said the vertiplane rivals the helicopter in rising, landing and hovering yet "will far exceed rotary-wing aircraft in speed and range capability."

The bent wing tips provide the structural support for the large flaps on the wings that can be extended far below the wing tips.

When extended for takeoff or landing, the wing flaps bend the propeller slipstream downward to provide vertical lift. Air streaming back from the two large propellers, powered by a Lycoming T53 gas turbine engine, is deflected against the flaps and the bent wing tips confined the slipstream for more efficiency.

When the plane gets off the ground the pilot retracts the flaps for level flight. When it is hovering he extends them.

The experimental plane is 27 feet, 8 inches long; 10 feet, 8 inches high and has a wing span of 23 feet 5 inches.

Built for the Army under technical direction of the Office of Naval Research, the plane is expected to be given initial test flights from the factory here within a month.

Second Panel Called For Trial of Beck

SEATTLE (AP)—A second panel of 30 jurors was called today in an effort to select a jury in the grand larceny trial of Dave Beck, 63-year-old lame duck president of the Teamsters Union.

Selection of the jury started yesterday. Twelve jurors were selected tentatively from the first 30-member panel, but it is expected final selection will not be completed until late today or tomorrow.

Beck, a millionaire in his own right, is charged with embezzling $1,900 from the sale of a 1952 union owned Cadillac. He is being tried in King County Superior Court.

Treatment Found To End Pimple, Smallpox Scars

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Development of a new method for treating pitted scars resulting from smallpox, pimples and certain other conditions was reported today by a Harvard skin specialist.

Dr. Arthur S. Spangler described the technique in a scientific exhibit prepared for the opening of the 11th clinical meeting of the American Medical Association.

Long a Problem

Spangler, of Massachusetts General and Peter Bent Brigham Hospitals, said deeply depressed scars especially those of the face, have long been a medical problem. He said chickenpox and accidents can cause them as well as smallpox and pimples.

His treatment method, he said, involves anesthetizing the area with a pain-killer and then cutting the fibrous strands beneath each scar with a small, two-edged knife. The knife is inserted through the hole made by the needle used to inject the pain-killer.

Finally, into the space so created beneath the scar, he injects a substance called "fibrin foam"—an extract of human blood.

The fibrin foam raises the bottom of the scar to the level of the rest of the skin, he said, adding that within several months the fibrin foam is absorbed by the body tissue and replaced by normal tissue.

For Both Large, Small

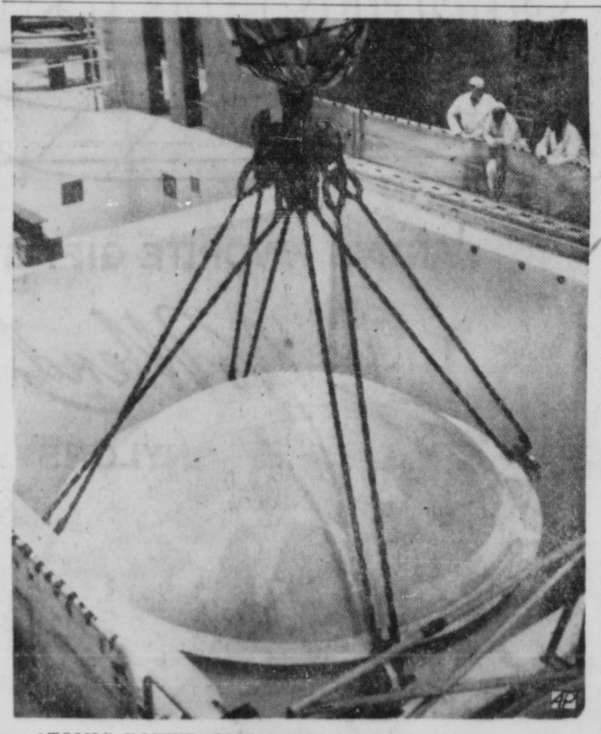

Declaring the new technique is equally effective for large and small scars and for shallow and deep ones, Spangler said that although the scar area may be black and blue for two or three days, the skin soon resumes its normal color.

The physician said that at times the skin covering the scar is so thin that even after treatment the scar remains visible. But he added that it is much less conspicuous than before, and can easily be covered with make-up.

Schaffer Acquires Plant

SCHENECTADY — Schaffer Stores Co., Inc., owners and operators of the chain of 42 Empire supermarkets serving eastern New York state, has acquired the 30-acre Campbell avenue plant, formerly occupied by the General Electric Company, it was announced today by Henry Schaffer, president. The purchase price was $346,000. All warehouse facilities of the company, now occupying five buildings, and the general offices at 116 Erie Boulevard, will be located in the new quarters next spring, Schaffer said.

Pep up tomato juice to be served as a first course by adding Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice and celery salt.

ATOMIC POWER ONE STEP CLOSER—As three workmen stand by, a dome is placed upon nuclear reactor Nov. 30 at atomic power plant which is being built at Shippingport, Pa. The plant, expected to be ready for test run soon, will be ultilized by Duquesne Light Co. (AP Wirephoto).

Additional Air Service Is Held Vital to Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial and commercial community of interest demands improvement in local air service throughout the northeastern United States, an airlines official said today.

David L. Miller, vice president of traffic and sales for Allegheny Airlines, told the Civil Aeronautics Board that the New England cities of Boston, Providence, Hartford, Springfield, New Haven, Bridgeport and New London are components of the eastern industrial community."

Relatively Isolated

"Yet they are relatively isolated transportation-wise from many industrial centers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and in certain instances from the District of Columbia," Miller said in prepared testimony.

Allegheny is asking CAB authorization for additional air service routes in the northeast and elimination of time-taking stops on some already scheduled eastern short hops.

Community of interest in industry and commerce is evidenced in a number of plant holdings throughout the east, Miller said.

For example, he said, the Harrisburg, Pa., Steel Co. has a branch plant in Syracuse, N. Y.; the L. B. Smith Corp., with headquarters in Harrisburg, has a branch in Syracuse, and the National Radiator Co., with home offices in Johnstown, Pa., has branch offices in Syracuse and Harrisburg.

Offices Cited

Similarly, Miller said, Armour & Co. has offices in Syracuse, Baltimore, Williamsport, Pa., and Elmira, N. Y.; Armstrong Cork Co., with headquarters in Lancaster, has a branch plant in Syracuse, and both the Westinghouse Electric Co. and the General Electric Co. have plants in Syracuse and Elmira.

To meet needs for expanded air service from Bradford, Pa., to Syracuse which would serve the needs of numerous industrial centers in both Pennsylvania and New York.

Hurley Launches Winter Program For Town Youth

The Junior and Senior High School boys will not report until Dec. 12 and 14. The Senior High School girls will report Thursday, Dec. 5, at 7 p. m.

All resident children of Hurley are eligible to participate in the youth program and are urged to take advantage of the town's youth program.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures

U.N. Secretary In Jerusalem, Jordan Adamant

JERUSALEM (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived in Jerusalem today on the second leg of a Middle East peace mission that apparently made little headway in Jordan.

A Jordanian spokesman said Hammarskjold might return to Amman after his talks with Israeli leaders.

That was taken as evidence that the secretary general had found Jordan's leaders adamant in their demand for U. N. inspection of Israeli-held Mt. Scopus and their refusal to let Israeli convoys take gasoline to the hill.

Immediately after arriving by plane from Amman, Hammarskjold went to the U. N. truce headquarters in neutral territory between Jordan and Israel for a talk with U. S. Marine Col Byron W. Leary, acting chief of the U. N. mediation team.

Later today he was to confer with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

A joint U. N.-Jordan communique issued after two days of meetings between Hammarskjold and leaders in Amman indicated that the talks had fallen short of U. N. expectations. The secretary general looked grim as he left the final conference.

Three issues are central in the latest Israel-Jordan tension: (1) Jordan's refusal to allow an Israeli convoy bearing 490 gallons of gasoline to pass through its territory to Mt. Scopus, in old Jerusalem; (2) Jordan's rejection of Col. Leary as a U. N. mediator, and (3) charges from Jordan and Israel that each is building fortifications in the demilitarized zone in violation of the 1949 armistice.

The communique issued in Amman mentioned the convoy dispute and said the Jordanians' views "having been fully clarified, the secretary general will now undertake further steps to resolve the problem."

Upstaters Given 4-H Scholarships

CHICAGO (AP) — Three Upstate New Yorkers have won $400 scholarship awards at the 36th national 4-H Club Congress for excellence in national project programs.

They are Merritt Stevens, 19, of Richville, St. Lawrence County, forestry; Gordon Willsey, 19, of Jordan, Onondaga County, tractor maintenance, and Ronald F. Kasper, 20, of Pine City, Chemung County, dairy production.

Four Upstate New York 4-H Club agents were also cited yesterday.

Robert A. Dyer of Hudson and Leon C. Pratt of Morrisville were presented with distinguished service awards. Albert Hoefer of Ithaca was given a "friend of 4-H" award, and Carl B. Garsy of Watkins Glen won a meritorious service 25-year award.

Segregate Bright Child, Is Plea Of State Group

ALBANY (AP) — Segregate the bright child and accelerate his education.

This was one of a number of recommendations that a conference of 20 scientists, engineers and educators urged the state yesterday to consider.

The recommendations envision broad new programs aimed at improving education in science and mathematics.

Other Proposals

The ocnference, called by Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., proposed that:

1. As a matter of general policy, particularly talented school children should be segregated into special classes throughout the state and given an accelerated education emphasizing science and mathematics.

2. The state should provide extra aid to pay science and mathematics teachers to attend summer college courses designed to improve their knowledge in the subjects they teach.

3. The State Education Department should consider a public relations program to popularize intellectuals. Allen said the idea was "to glamorize the so-called egghead" and sell students on scientific careers.

Earlier Identity

4. Efforts should be made to identify the bright pupil earlier than at present—in the elementary school rather than in junior high or high school.

Allen called the conference to solicit ideas on ways the state could improve its science-mathematics education to help meet the challenge posed by Soviet Russia's advances in technology.

Allen said the conference made many broad recommendations, all of which would be considered by the department. Among other proposals were: Higher pay for science and mathematics teachers; an increase in the 500 state scholarships now available for college study in engineering; extra state aid for schools that offer seniors special classes qualifying them for advance credit in college.

Polio Patient, 10, Skips Fifth Grade

DALLAS (AP)—If you went over Joe Rowe's school records you'd notice he got a straight A average last semester and was doing so well he skipped the fifth grade and went into the sixth this year. About the only thing unusual you'd notice is that he types his homework, rare for a 10-year-old.

Arms Paralyzed

He has to. His arms are paralyzed by polio and although he can write—and paint—with his toes, he prefers to use a typewriter. Joe uses the hunt and peck system with his strong and deft toes.

Joe, who hasn't walked in five years, spends his nights in an iron lung. By day he attends school by telephone, watches television, paints and runs his electric train.

After polio hit, a tutor and his mother helped him through the early grades. At the time, he lived in San Antonio and a telephone hookup to school was arranged for some classes.

When he moved here, it became a regular thing for him to attend Dan D. Rogers school by telephone.

A small sound box is set up in the school room and another in Joe's room. Teachers, standing near the box, conduct classes as usual. At times they fire questions into the box and they are relayed by a special telephone wire to Joe. Joe answers back on the wire.

His teachers, Mrs. Sarah Childress and Mrs. Mary Pool, say he is one of the two sixth graders who got straight A's last semester.

Teacher Is Proud

His parents try to give him as many outside activities as possible. Last summer his father, Sidney Rowe, took him fishing.

"I got one hooked and couldn't bring him in," Joe reports "so I turned the rod over to dad. He let the fish get away."

Mrs. Childress summed up her experience with Joe. Speaking for herself and the class, she said, "Joe has made us very, very happy."

radiators, plumbing, etc. All piping is copper.

The building is 100 per cent fireproofed with some 1,200 automatic sprinklers throughout the hotel.

Just inside the main entrance on Fair Street is a small lobby. On the right is the hotel desk and manager's office.

Staff Has 40 Employes

The staff of some 40 employes is all local. Mrs. Wixson will join her husband in the hotel operation, serving as hostess in the coffee room.

Architect, Builders

Architecture for the new hotel was Arthur Silver of New York City. He is also the architect for the proposed new synagogue which will be erected on Albany Avenue.

Henry Swart & Son of Kingston is general contractor. C. B. Strain of Kingston is contractor for heating and air-conditioning, Dave Jacobs of Hunter is electrical contractor and Leo Yonnetti is painting contractor.

The coffee room will be open for breakfast Wednesday morning.

The new manager has a wealth of hotel experience with a background of 27 years in hotel management.

Trained in Management

A graduate of Colgate University, he also is a graduate of the Lewis Hotel Training School and attended the Harvard Graduate School of Business for a year.

Starting as a clerk, Frank quickly rose to a management position. For two years he managed Bernarr McFadden's Physical Culture Hotel in Dansville and later hotels in Rochester, Seneca Falls, Pann Yan, Lake Placid, Allentown, Pa., and Hazelton, Pa.

He spent 10 years with the Knott Hotel Corp., managing in New York City the Hotels Parkside, Brittany, Cornish Arms and Collingwood. He also managed the Powers Hotel, Rochester, and the Warren in Spring Lake, N. J. Prior to entering the Sordoni Enterprises he managed Hotel Kenmore Hall in New York. Other managerial posts include the Graymore in Portland, Me., and the Brierhurst, Philadelphia. He also owns the Ledge End Inn and Santa Cruz Inn, both in Haines Falls, well-known to Kingston residents.

Served in Navy

During the war years in '43 and '44 he served as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Navy Supply Corps, seeing service in the Pacific Theatre. He still retains his naval interest through refresher tours of duty in the Naval Reserve.

He and Mrs. Wixson reside on John Street in Kingston.

S-A Kettles Will

lassie picked up the kettle and stepped out into the bitter cold, at a busy street corner, set up a sign, 'kept the kettle boiling,' and that night there was soup enough for all.

Unique Appeal Spreads

"By the following Christmas, word of the unique appeal spread and the idea was used in the 30 Salvation Army corps along the West Coast. That year the Army's kettles provided Christmas dinners for 150,000 needy there.

"The kettles—and their literal appeal—captured the imagination of donors. America accepted the universal message "Keep the kettle boiling, so that the less fortunate might have Christmas dinners, so there would be Christmas gifts for children, Christmas remembrances for the sick, the aged, the lonely, and happiness for those who would otherwise be forgotten in the merriest season of the year."

He served as secretary of the Industrial Management Club of Kingston, as chairman of the Industrial Division of the Community Chest and as a commissioner on the Board of Electrical Examiners of the city.

He was the first chairman of the Kingston Business-Education Day in 1955 and 1956, as a member of the Kiwanis Club of Kingston and of the Central Hudson Employes Quarter Century Club.

Columbia Man Is Killed in Crash

CLAVERACK (AP) — A father of four was killed last night when his automobile swerved off Route 23 in this Columbia County village, struck three guard rails and hurtled 67 feet down a bank.

State police identified the victim as Thomas J. Slauson, 35, of Hudson, who was employed as a chemist in Rensselaer.

LeFever Girl May Leave Hospital Soon Is Report

Mary Lou LeFever, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl LeFever of High Falls, who lived for eight days in an unoccupied house near Accord, may be discharged from Kingston Hospital this week, it is reported.

The girl, who slipped out of her bedroom window Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, reportedly lived on mustard and water during this period. She was found by John L. Schoonmaker and his son, George, on whose farm the house is located, on Wednesday, Nov. 27.

She was admitted to the hospital suffering with malnutrition, exposure and shock.

The girl was wearing the same clothes she had on when last seen and said that all she had seen during her eight days in the two-story frame house, used by Schoonmaker during the summer for migrant laborers, were a "couple of dogs." She found a jar of mustard in the house, ate that and drank water, she said.

She left home because of certain domestic trouble, she indicated.

Hunter Still Critical From Stomach Wound

The condition of Edward Lawrence, 21, of Stony Point, who was taken to the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, Saturday with a bullet wound in his stomach, was still critical today.

Lawrence was hunting with Romer Thompson, 18, of New City, in a wooded section near Cairo at the time of the mishap. Catskill state police said Thompson mistook Lawrence for a deer.

A country editor decided to adopt the city idea of posting bulletins of important events in front of his shop. Soon after he had erected his bulletin board he was told by a local physician that Deacon Jones was seriously ill. The deacon was a man of some prominence in the community, so the editor posted a series of bulletins as follows:

10 a. m.—Deacon Jones no better.

11 a. m.—Deacon Jones has relapse.

12:30 p. m.—Deacon Jones' family has been summoned.

3:10 p. m.—Deacon Jones has died and gone to heaven.

Later in the afternoon a traveling salesman happened by, stopped to read the bulletins, and going to the board added the following:

4:10 p. m.—Great excitement in heaven. Deacon Jones has not arrived yet.

Three Convicted In Bank Robbery

BUFFALO (AP)—Three men have been convicted of robbing $23,775 from the Linwood branch of the Liberty Bank last year. Two others had already pleaded guilty.

A federal court jury deliberated 90 minutes yesterday before convicting Joseph A. Simmons, 29, and James R. Millio, 30, both of Buffalo, of the actual robbery; and Frank P. Coppola, 25, of Niagara Falls of aiding the armed robbery.

Coppola, who was described by the FBI as the "brains" of a hold-up band, is already under a 20-year sentence for the $52,529 robbery of a branch of the Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co. in February 1956.

All three face sentences of up to 20 years on each of three counts on which they were convicted.

Federal District Court Judge Justine C. Morgan set no date for sentencing, pending arguments by the defense for new trials.

The two who already pleaded guilty are Dario C. D'Antuono, 20, formerly of Niagara Falls, and Carmelo J. Giamba, 30, formerly of the Town of Tonawanda. D'Antuono was a key witness for the prosecution. They are awaiting sentence.

Coppola, D'Antuono and Simmons have also been indicted on other robbery charges.

Several engagements during the War of 1812 were fought in New York State.

Japan Drops Move To Seek Stiffer Girard Penalty

CAMP DREW, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard and his Japanese wife, "Candy," began final preparations today for their trip to the United States after Japan decided not to appeal the three-year suspended sentence a Japanese court gave the Illinois soldier.

Maebashi prosecutor Kaname Watanabe announced the state would not seek a stiffer penalty for the fatal shooting on a firing range last Jan. 30 of Mrs. Naka Sakai, a Japanese scrap scavanger.

Success Doubted

Watanabe and the supreme procurator's office in Tokyo said they did not think they could obtain a more severe penalty in a higher court. U. S.-Japanese relations, strained during parts of the celebrated case, were also considered in deciding against an appeal, supreme procurator Tadashi Hanai indicated.

Inejiro Asanuma, secretary general of the opposition Socialist party, said the decision was "absolutely deplorable" and "because of outside pressure. . .we will take it up at the next Diet (parliament) session."

Socialist pressure played the biggest part in forcing the government to demand Girard's trial in a Japanese court rather than U. S. Army court-martial.

Girard 'Feels Good'

Girard, a 22-year-old specialist 3rd class from Ottawa, Ill., told newsmen with a smile the decision made him "feel good." It leaves him free to return home for discharge soon. A four-year probationary period set by the court when he was sentenced Nov. 19 will not apply outside Japan.

Haru "Candy" Girard, whom the GI married last summer, said she had been notified they would sail from Yokohama on Friday. She planned to get an immigrant visa for the United States stamped in her Japanese passport, tomorrow. The U. S. embassy in Tokyo said her papers are in order for immigration to America.

Penn Gets Farrell Papers

NEW YORK (AP)—James T. Farrell's papers are to be deposited permanently with the University of Pennsylvania. Other writers whose manuscripts are there are Theodore Dreiser and George Seldes.

MODENA NEWS

MODENA—Students at the Modena School enjoyed a trip to New York City by bus, recently, where they visited the Museum of Natural History. Accompanying the youngsters were the teachers, Mrs. Katherine Van Vliet and Mrs. Beulah Link, of New Paltz; also the following mothers: Mrs. Eber H. Smith, Mrs. Russell Coy, Mrs. Lester Cohn, Mrs. Edward Niddrie, Mrs. Albert Molson.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hansen, have named their son born Saturday, Nov. 23, at St. Lukes Hospital, Newburgh, Jay Kristen. Mr. Hansen is a former resident of this community.

Mrs. Walter Elmendorf has vacated the cottage of J. E. Hasbrouck, at the four-corners in Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Freston J. Paltridge and Miss Glennie M. Wager were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bernard and family in Poughkeepsie Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Helen Griffen, formerly of Modena, is assisting in the care of Miss Ella Mack, who recently returned from St. Lukes Hospital, and is convalescing from an operation at her home here.

Gilbert Smith, local student attending the Wallkill Central School, was named on the honor roll, at the marking of the first quarter. Gilbert is a student in the 11th. grade of the school.

Local teachers will attend the general meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, to be conducted Wednesday, Dec. 4, at 7 p. m. in the New Paltz State College Union Dining Hall. Dr. James E. Allen Jr., State Education Commissioner, will be guest speaker, and the meeting will be open to all school administrators, school board members, and teachers in the mid-Hudson area.

Church Council Report Shows Great Promise, Serious Flaws

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A sharp, probing light was turned on America's churches today—and it found signs of great promise, but also serious flaws.

The hard-hitting appraisal came in a 6,500 word report on the "State of the Churches" to the triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

It cited these factors, among others, as currently widespread characteristics of U. S. religious life:

1. Christian teachings, concerning the hereafter have long been sidestepped in many churches, but are now regaining their rightful place in church perspective.

2. A trend in the churches to be ruled by the question, "What does the popular will expect of us," is changing to a more courageously Christian guidepost, "What is the word of God which we must proclaim?"

Some Favor Promoter

3. Modern churches too often have put the accent on secular yardsticks of success—size, statistics and outward attractiveness—rather than spiritual dedication.

4. Many congregations would rather have a minister who is a "good administrator and promoter" than one who is "a loyal and humble disciple of Jesus Christ, a thinker and a fearless prophet of the sovereign and redeeming Lord."

5. Churches too widely have been accepting technology as "the most realistic approach to human welfare," but now are insisting that man's spiritual condition determines the destiny of the group and the individual.

6. Interest in religion appears to be at an all-time high, with church membership over 100 million, but delinquency, immorality and social confusion also are at peaks.

7. Fifty-three churches reported total income of $2,041,908,161 last year, while the yearly take of one criminal syndicate from narcotics, gambling and extortion was an estimated $2,280,000,000.

More Churches Needed

8. Church membership growth is outstripping population gains, and denominations will have to build new churches at the rate of 2 000 a year for the next 20 years to keep up.

9. Too many people speak vaguely of the need of "faith and religion," rather than of the real need—of God, of a "return to the Father."

The wide-ranging report was prepared by the Rev. Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, associate general secretary of the council. ..

It was presented on the third day of the week-long assembly of representatives of 30 Protestant and orthodox denominations with about 37½ million members.

Is Top Salesman Of Firm's 500 Throughout U.S.

ALBERT O. SONNENBERG

A local salesman has been selected as top man in the field of more than 500 sales agents by Osborne-Kemper-Thomas, one of the nation's leaders in the manufacture of calendars and sundry promotion mediums for business and industry.

He is Albert O. Sonnenberg of 75 Millers Lane, a representative of O-K-T since 1946.

Sonnenberg was honored at a recent convention in Cincinnati, O., marking the 75th anniversary of the sales concern, as the firm's top man in the nation for all-around sales performance during 1957.

KHS Graduate

In a point scoring formula used by the firm to rate its representatives, Sonnenberg was the highest in a field of more than 500 sales agents covering the 48 states, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada.

A native of Highland, Sonnenberg was graduated from Kingston High School in 1941 and is a veteran of three years of service in World War II which included combat service in the European and Pacific Theatres as an infantryman.

He is married to the former Miss Collette Magnusson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Magnusson, 312 Washington Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Sonnenberg have one child, a son, Craig, age 3.

Sonnenberg also is well-known in local civic affairs. He is a member of the First Baptist Church where he serves on the board of trustees and holds the office of secretary of the board. He also serves on the advisory board of the Salvation Army.

Local Kegler

Sonnenberg also is prominently identified in local bowling circles. He is a member of the Church Federation Bowling League with the First Baptist Church squad. He also has held various offices in that league as well as being captain of the Baptist team.

This fall Sonnenberg was named publicity chairman of the First Baptist Church every member canvass and sector project.

The local sales agent is a member of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion and Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Kemper-Thomas and Osborne merged sales forces in February of this year. The firm was formerly known as Kemper-Thomas Co.

THE DRAMA OF THE INSTALLATION of Central Hudson's new natural gas transmission line is focused on the men, machines and material employed on the seven-month project.

Natural Gas

Thomas Davis, assistant general superintendent; Wylie Looney, Buffalo division superintendent; C. B. Thompson, New England division superintendent; and Howard Gray, assistant measurement superintendent.

As one result of the completion of the new transmission line, approximately 630 customers of Central Hudson in and around the village of Catskill will start receiving natural gas in place of the butane air gas that they have been served with. Necessary conversion and appliance adjustments are now being made by Central Hudson personnel.

Local Area Included

In addition to reenforcing its existing system and making the fuel available to Catskill customers, it will help meet the ever increasing gas requirements of the rapidly growing Kingston-Saugerties-Catskill area.

Natural gas first entered the Central Hudson System in July, 1950 after the Company built a 40-mile gas transmission line through the southern part of its territory to connect with the Home Gas Company, of the Columbia Gas System, at its cross-country natural gas transmission line at Tuxedo, N. Y., in southern Orange County.

FPC Ruling Upheld

In the summer of 1954 Central Hudson petitioned the Federal Power Commission for permission to purchase a substantial portion of natural gas from the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company at a point near Albany and the Commission issued an order to that effect in February, 1955.

Shortly thereafter, the Home Gas Company filed an appeal with the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals urging that the decision of the Commission be set aside. The Appeals Court upheld the FPC ruling in March, 1956 and the U. S. Supreme Court's decision not to review the case in October, 1956 removed the last obstacle to the project.

Local End Starts in 1956

Some four miles of the new pipeline at the Kingston end were started during 1956, but the major portion of the construction commenced last May.

Construction of the 10-inch, high pressure, steel transmission line required over 4,000 tons of pipe and more than 7,000 different welding operations. A team of inspectors were on hand to check welds with X-ray equipment to assure their perfection. The new line generally parallels the New York State Thruway and in a number of instances is immediately adjacent to the superhighway.

The installation of the pipeline required the crossing of several major streams including the Catskill Creek and the Esopus Creek. It crossed the swampy areas and lowlands of northern Ulster County and worked its way up and down the rocky and hilly terrain and deep ravines of the northern foothills of the Catskill Mountains until it reached Cedar Hill in the Town of Bethlehem about six miles from Albany.

Stations Do Checking

Upon completion it was tested in two sections with water at one and one-half times the pressures the pipeline is designed to use and it has met the rigid safety requirements of the company and of the New York State Public Service Commission. Regulator and metering and flow control stations, to check on and control the pressure of the gas, have been installed in five locations along the route of the pipeline. In addition, the Company's Gas System Operator in Poughkeepsie can maintain full knowledge of and regulate the pressure of the natural gas in the line electronically.

The Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, Central Hudson's new supplier, like the Columbia Gas System, its supplier at the southern end of its service area, is one of the nation's major natural gas transmission companies. It transports natural gas from the fertile gas and oil fields of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, across the nation, to public utilities in 13 states.

20-Year Supply

The Tennessee Company both produces and purchases the gas that it transports and sells. In addition, it maintains extensive underground natural gas storage facilities and has announced that its known reserves and storage potential is sufficient to supply all of Tennessee's requirements for at least 20 years.

Central Hudson and its predecessor companies have been in the gas business since the founding of the Poughkeepsie Gas Light Company in 1850. The Company's major pipelines now extend the entire length of its service area on the west side of the Hudson River, under highways, creeks and rivers, through swamps and up and down mountains. Its natural gas pipelines cross under the Hudson with two mains between Beacon and Newburgh and with three mains between Poughkeepsie and Highland to assure continuity of service.

Another natural gas transmission line links Poughkeepsie and Beacon along the east bank of the Hudson and also extends from Beacon to Fishkill. Other major spur lines extend from Newburgh through Cornwall to West Point and from Newburgh to Maybrook and Montgomery in Orange County and to Wallkill in Ulster County.

Over $16½ Million Invested

The local utility now has more than $16,500,000 invested in its gas business and with the new transmission line it has about 550 miles of gas mains including 190 miles of high pressure steel transmission mains.

In addition, Central Hudson maintains manufactured gas production facilities in Poughkeepsie that can manufacture gas interchangeable with natural gas to supplement its two natural gas supplies.

Central Hudson officials have announced that either of its natural gas transmission lines, the one originating at Tuxedo or the new one connected at Cedar Hill, are capable of supplying Central Hudson's total natural gas requirements, if necessary.

Careful Handling

Blouses hung to drip-dry need careful handling. A folded washcloth "pad" will assure a smooth shoulder line if placed inside each shoulder of the blouse. Finger press seams, pleats and cuffs and smooth ruffling into place while blouse is still wet.

Boy, 14, Slain; Tried to Run Down Trooper

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A state police lieutenant said one of his troopers shot and killed a 14-year-old boy last night as the climax to a stolen car chase at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

The boy deliberately tried to run down the trooper, the lieutenant declared.

The victim was Paul Misencik of Pittsburgh. A 13-year-old companion, Anthony Machi, also of Pittsburgh, escaped injury.

Lt. Richard Gray told this story:

The proprietor of a service station phoned state police that two youths, in a 1958 model car later reported stolen, had driven off without paying for 20 gallons of gas.

Troopers Harry Ewing and Homer Redd spotted the auto and chased it about 17 miles at speeds of up to 100 miles an hour.

Finally, the auto slowed as if to stop. Trooper Ewing slowed the patrol car and Trooper Redd jumped out. As he approached the still slowing automobile, the young driver spun the wheel and turned the car around, driving toward Redd.

Redd fired three shots, two hitting Misencik who lost control of the car which plowed into a guard rail.

Lt. Gray said Machi told him that as Misencik drove the car toward Trooper Redd, Machi said: "You're going to hit that cop!"

Gray said Machi told him Misencik replied:

"I don't care."

Dist. Atty. David Wofle of Cambria County said "all indications were that the action of the officers in firing at the car was justified."

Switchman Killed

BINGHAMTON (AP) — William Lisick, 24, a railroad switchman, was killed today, apparently when struck by a train in the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad yard.

His body was found on the tracks. Coroner Ralph Gilmore said a broken neck was the apparent cause of death.

The coroner theorized that Lisick was struck and thrown by a switching engine that was shunting cars.

Unnecessary Agreement

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Gaston Foote, Methodist pastor, recalls his car breaking down when he was a struggling young minister. He told a mechanic: "I hope you won't charge me too much because I'm a real poor preacher." The mechanic said, "Yep, you sure are. I heard you Sunday."

Ulysses S. Grant had a middle name. It was Simpson.

Chase Ends In Death for Four Youths

TONAWANDA (AP) — Four boys being chased by police were killed when their automobile knocked down a tree and overturned against a house in a burst of flame late last night.

Two died in the crash. The others died at a hospital early this morning.

The Erie County sheriff's office identified the boys, all of Buffalo, as Robert Farrugia, 16, Felix Uzar, 17, Joseph Auria, 16, and Autyle Maynard, 15.

Uzar and Maynard were killed instantly.

Erie County sheriff's deputies said the two-mile chase in the Town of Tonawanda reached speeds of 95 m.p.h. They said the car swerved out of control and crashed in a flash of flame, but that the fire died out quickly.

The deputies started chasing the car when it failed to stop on their signal to pull over near the south Grand Island bridge.

They said they had been parked in a service station when a motorist pulled up and told them there was a car "weaving all over the road."

"You'd better stop them before they kill somebody," the deputies said the motorist told them.

They said when they pulled alongside the boy's car the driver ignored their signal to pull over and increased his speed.

West Adirondacks Under 2-Foot Snow

ALBANY (AP)—The western Adirondacks lay under nearly two feet of snow today. Most of the state escaped with light flurries, however.

The Weather Bureau reported an 8-inch fall overnight at Boonville in the western Adirondacks, for a total of 21 inches. To the northeast, Saranac Lake reported about 5 inches had fallen in the last 36 hours.

Heavy snow is on tap for western New York tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures are expected to remain about the same. They ranged mostly in the 20s last night although Massena recorded 11.

Clothing Economy

Dryer-dried clothes and household linens last longer than those line-dried, with better retention of fabric color and texture, and less loss of tensile strength.

Valley Area

open market. The effect of such purchases (commonly known as open market operations) enables member banks to reduce their borrowings at regional banks, thus expanding their lending capacities. By making more money available, this technique usually results in driving down the general level of money rates.

2.) Lower reserve requirements of member banks. In the central reserve cities of New York and Chicago the percentage of cash reserves required to be on hand to meet demand deposits are now as high as 20 per cent, while the statutory minimum is only 13 per cent. Such a lowering would also increase the lending capacity of banks.

"The very least that should be done," Commissioner McMurray said, "is to lower the New York and Chicago requirements to 18 per cent, the same as all 'reserve city' banks. The difference in reserve requirements for various member banks has little significance today."

Commissioner McMurray's data for October showed that 5,626 privately financed dwelling units were started or authorized throughout the State of New York last month compared to 6,025 units started in October, 1956, a decline of seven per cent. This drop constituted the twenty-fourth consecutive month that declines have occurred compared to the same period in previous years. For the first ten months of 1957, a total of 51,711 private units were started or authorized, a reduction of 17 per cent from the same period last year, and the lowest total for the span since 1950.

New Cabinet Sink Makes Dream Kitchen Reality

A happy marriage of function and beauty has taken place in your steel kitchen sink.

Whether your preference is gleaming white stainless steel or any one of the host of beautiful colors appliance manufacturers have developed, your sink today provides a perfect center for getting your kitchen chores done with a minimum of effort.

Not only does today's sink cabinet house improved wash and spray rinse appurtenances, but it has advanced in other directions as well.

Imagine getting rid of most of your garbage simply with the aid of an automatic waste disposer, installed in your sink. No more having to get dressed just to go outside with the garbage in all kinds of weather; no more accumulation of garbage.

You can install a towel dryer under your sink, too. If you're not lucky enough to own an automatic dishwasher. Many dishwashers, incidentally, can be installed under the sink.

Things of Beauty

Sink cabinets in themselves are beautful things. Some sink tops come with fluorescent lighting on the backsplash. Modern drawer and door design highlight many new sinks, with doors insulated to eliminate noise in closing.

Sinks come recessed at the bottom, so you can do your work up close without fear of stubbing your toe or marring the finish. Many are recessed under the sink top to provide knee room, so you can sit while you work.

A wide variety of special drawers is offered under the sink — cutlery drawers, vegetable keeper, soap bar, bread box and many others. Shelves slide out and are ajustable up and down.

There is no need to postpone the Christmas purchase of an efficient attractive and sparkling new cabinet sink or drainboard because, "I want to wait until I remodel my whole kitchen."

Because sinks are usually made by the same manufacturer that produces complete kitchens, you can buy the sink now and have no worries about its blending into the kitchen you want to remodel at a later date.

Steel sinks are made in a variety of widths; 48, 54 and 60 inches being the most common. They are available with drawers and storage space on one or both sides.

Decorator Colors

You can purchase a drainboard-type sink complete with a one-piece steel top in gleaming white or in a variety of decorator colors. Or, if you prefer the fashion appeal and lifetime finish of stainless steel, you will find available a variety of sizes of cabinet sinks that may be fitted with stainless steel tops or stainless steel drop in bowls.

In any case, you will find it simple to find the right style and size for your requirements. Whether it is just the beginning of a complete new kitchen or a part of a newly remodeled kitchen, a new steel sink is easy to buy and install. It will provide a durable Christmas gift that will be appreciated through the years.

Protects You

The "UL" label attached to your new electrical appliance means that the appliance is as reasonably safe as science and engineering skill can make it. The initials stand for Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., a non-profit laboratory founded more than 60 years ago.

Keep Quiet

Steel kitchen cabinet doors are insulated with a sound deadening material and are equipped with rubber stops so that the younger members of the family can slam doors without driving mother to distraction.

Freezer Can Help Make Christmas Party More Fun

Too often a Christmas party is fun for everybody except the hostess. With a freezer, however, the hostess can have more fun than anybody. Because, in addition to enjoying the party she has the knowledge that she's achieved a social sucess with a minimum of effort.

To eliminate most of the fuss involved in getting ready for the affair, plan the party menu, prepare the delicacies in advance and freeze them. On the day of the big event all that's needed is to remove the party food from the freezer, ready for serving.

All kinds of foods can be frozen—cakes, nut breads, fruits, sandwich spreads, canapes and pies, or even a steak or Cornish game hen. Many kinds of containers, packages and wrapping materials have appeared on the market to keep party delicacies fresh and good tasting. A container that's moisture and vapor proof is a must.

The combination of quality food, some advance planning, and a modern freezer guarantees a merry Christmas for everyone, particularly the housewife.

Five Minutes Only

About five minutes are required to prepare dishes and load a dishwasher, compared with 35 minutes needed to scrape, rinse, dry and put away dishes when the work is done by hand.

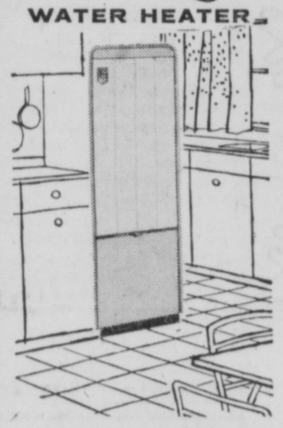

Hubby Inspires Dishwasher Buy, Survey Reveals

It may be a woman's world, but a research team found that almost half the purchases of automatic dishwashers were inspired by the men in the house.

They also found that:

1. Almost everybody would like to own a dishwasher.
2. Dishwashers are regarded as a luxury.
3. Ownership is a symbol of both financial success and social status.
4. The chief source of information about dishwashers seems to be friends of owners. Also, there is a strong influence to the purchase of dishwashers spreading from friend to friend.

Modern Appliances Make White Christmas a Merry One

Help Everyone Enjoy Gala Family Yuletide

Fun for everyone. That's what a White Christmas will mean in your house this year.

Gleaming new major appliances do more than just perform practical functions around your house to free Mom from her workday chores. They also provide a welcome springboard for joyous pastimes for the whole family.

For one thing, they can lead Dad to new hobbies and interests. Believe it or not, most men like to putter around the kitchen. Why not let them? Now, what with the easy-does-it features on modern ranges, he can cook and bake to his heart's content.

He may start bragging that he's as good a cook as you are, but let him believe it. Actually, he can't help but turn out delicious dishes with the help of the newest temperature guides, timers, thermostats, automatic controls and all the other functional features found on today's kitchen ranges — whether they are built-in or free standing.

They can make a good cook into a master chef in no more time than it takes to have a new range installed.

Fun with Safety

Even the children can have fun in the kitchen and be as safe as if they were in their own playrooms. Electronic ovens, for example, provide cooking safety never before known. The inside of the oven never gets hot, and as soon as the door of the oven is opened, all the power is automatically turned off.

Now the kids can help mommy prepare the Christmas dinner — or any other meal. For while she is stuffing the turkey, the little lady of the house can be baking her own special cake in the electric oven. Cooking this fast, modern way, that cake will be done by the time the bird is ready for roasting.

The children can also begin to learn the art of cooking at an earlier age, because they don't have to be watched when they are using an electronic oven. And letting them do such "grown up" activities all alone, will make it a lot easier to call on them when mother needs some help around the house.

The youngsters will also delight at seeing their fuzzy toys "take a bath" in your new washing machine. They'll just thrill as the little pink elephants and brown doggies go tumbling across the window as they are being dried.

Laundry equipment takes care of cloth story books, too.

New Dimension

A new dimension can be added to your gift giving this Christmas that will be a lot of fun for the whole family. Everyone can get together one evening about a week before Christmas and "cook up" a few gifts. This is meant literally, because your range and freezer can be used to help prepare a few extra gifts for some friends who may drop in unannounced.

No push through large department store crowds for these gifts, either. The only crowded place will be the oven and the top of your range as you bake delicious pies, cakes, candies, and other delicacies. You will have a lot of fun just deciding what flavor pie to bake in case Aunt Minnie drops in for a Yule visit; or whether to put a peach or pineapple filling in the cake.

Of course, the whole family can work together at helping Mom prepare these practical gifts.

Then there's no better place to hide your gifts than the freezer—and not because there's no room left in the closets, but because the freezer will keep your gift food items as fresh as the day you baked them.

For Joyous Yule

These frozen gifts can be given the same wrapping treatment with pretty papers and fancy ribbons as the hankies and perfumes. Just make sure that the item is properly freezer-wrapped before you dress it up with the holiday wrapping.

And if Aunt Minnie doesn't come, you will be able to take out the pie a few weeks after Christmas and serve it at the family dinner. Delicious as ever.

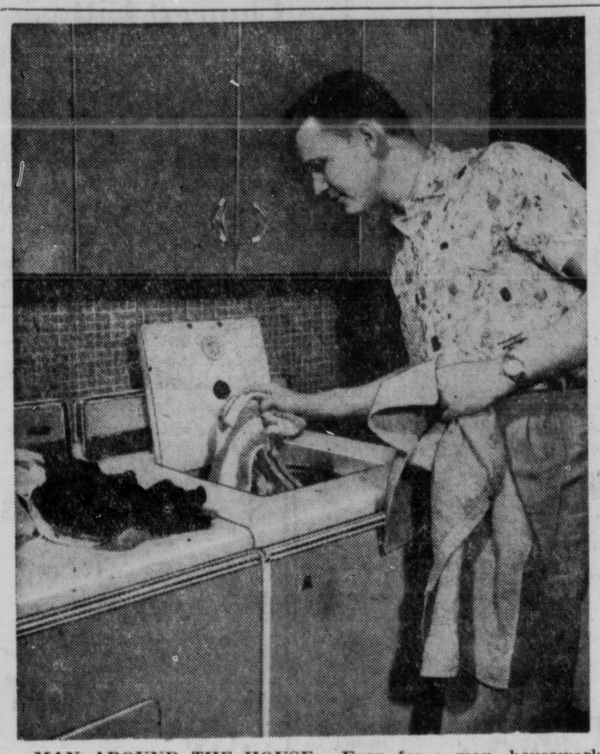

Since Christmas comes but once a year, make certain that you insure a joyous one by making it a White Christmas.

Trick With Ice

Ice cubes may be used to skim the grease from gravy or a stew. When ice is dropped into the hot liquid, surplus grease collects around the cubs and may be easily lifted out.

Tip Tip

Try cotton tipped swabs for cleaning those tiny nooks and corners of your appliances.

MAN AROUND THE HOUSE: Even for a man, housework isn't drudgery when there are modern appliances to do the work for him. A pair of laundry servants, like this new washer and dryer, make the job of doing the family wash as easy as pie—for man or woman.

WITH THE DISHES AWAY, YOU CAN PLAY: Mom and Dad have plenty of time to put the finishing touches on the children's gifts while the dishes are being washed and dried automatically. There is at least an hour of extra time each day when you have one of these automatic servants in your house.

How to Get the Most Out Of Your Christmas Dryer

As with a finely-tuned automobile engine, you can get more "mileage" out of your automatic clothes dryer by following some simple rules of the road.

To get better drying results and to insure that your dryer will perform more efficiently for a longer period, the National LP-Gas Council has the following suggestions to make:

1. Be sure the drum is wiped clean before using the dryer. Dirt or grease that may have gotten onto the drum will be transferred to the clothing.
2. Do not overload the dryer. Complaints about slow operation are usually due to overloading the dryer and not allowing clothes sufficient room to tumble.
3. Sort items for washing and drying at one time. Similar fabrics require the same drying time and temperature. It's easier to transfer load directly from washer to dryer than to sort wet clothes.
4. Do not overdry. Overdrying causes static electricity in synthetic fabrics and also causes wrinkles to set. Limp linens are also caused by overdrying.
5. Dry starched clothes with other starched clothes. In the case of nylon or dacron curtains, for example, put a couple of dry terry towels in with the curtains. Towels will absorb excess starch and leave crisp finish on curtains.
6. Use top of dryer as folding and smoothing surface. The heat of the dryer aids in smoothing the clothes.

Check and clean lint tray frequently. If lint is a problem, remember that most of it was formed before the drying process.

8. Always follow manufacturer's suggested temperature settings if dryer has controls.

'Square Look Is Appliance Fashion Note

Good looks are keeping up with the tremendous mechanical improvements in modern major appliances.

Probably the most significant style change has been what different manufacturers call the sheer or square look.

Because of this style's uncluttered, clean, square design, free-standing appliances can fit snugly into cabinet arrangements and look like built-ins. Straight sides and right angle corners can be placed cozily against the straight sides of standard or custom-built cabinets without major carpentry.

Recessed hinges permit refrigerator models in this style to be placed against a side wall without having to allow space for door swing, since the door opens fully within its frame.

Built-ins themselves are rising in popularity, with virtually all appliances available in this fashion.

Stack-on units, appliances made to fit standard countertops, give the built-in look, too, without need of carpentry. The built-in look is also carried out with drop-in units, which require either that a hole be cut in the existing counter, or that it be placed in a counter that was pre-cut by the manufacturer.

Pre-assembled packaged kitchens, which combine several basic appliances in a single framework, are being produced by more and more manufacturers. Smartly styled, these units are between seven and nine feet long, and are ideal for the modern-minded homemaker with limited kitchen space.

Equipment that stands alone and is portable continues to have its appearance improved.

Like free standing or built-in appliances, these are available in various materials and colors.

Best Cook Deserves Best Gift

Could a woman want a better gift from St. Nick than to hear her husband say, "My wife's the best cook in the world?"

Well, appliance manufacturers have developed their ranges to a point where even your undemonstrative hubby might be saying it this Christmas.

What with all the fussing there is around holiday time, many a housewife would be thankful just to know that her Christmas dinner will be done right, and on time. But a woman likes to feel that her holiday meals are something special.

Not only your holiday meals, but meals all-year-round can be special, with a modern automatic range.

You Can't Miss

Even the best of cooks have boil-overs, burnt food and scorched cooking vessels, but now that's all impossible. These housewife's enemies haven't a chance, with new top burner controls, which keep the precise temperature at which you set them, be it 150 degrees for mashed potatoes, or 400 degrees for French fries.

Automatic roast controls eliminate all the guesswork from roasting. Before leaving the house, the housewife decides at what hour the roast should be started and whether she'd like it rare, medium or well done. She sets the controls accordingly, sticks a probe into the meat, and the range takes over. It will stay at a steady temperature until the roast reaches the indicated degree of "doneness" and shut off automatically when the meat is ready for serving.

Rotisseries are included in better ranges, and there may be as many as three spits. Combined with other range features, the rotisserie lures you into preparing such exotic new foods for yourself and family, as shish kebab.

Ovens are getting larger, and even 30-inch ranges may have a 24-inch oven. Some ranges have two ovens, permitting simultaneous baking of items that require different times and temperature. This enables you to do all your Christmas baking at once—pies, and meat, for example. Two broilers in a single range are becoming more common, too, another feature that helps you do your work better and more quickly.

Ovens, of course, respond to pre-set temperatures, lighting up or buzzing or otherwise informing the housewife when her work is done. Fifth burners, convertible to griddles or deep fryers, further advance the range's utility, as do toasting compartments.

Easier to Clean

Ease of cleaning is being stressed more and more. Some ranges are built so that their entire top lifts up for cleaning. Some have oven racks that can't be pulled out too far, but far enough for cleaning.

Appliance makers have added some extras for your convenience, such as broiling trays that double as serving trays and disposable aluminum liners for burner bowls.

And, as far as good looks are concerned, ranges are becoming more and more appealing to the eye.

As with the man you married it might be the good looks that attracted you, but it's the good qualities that make you love him.

Washing Machine Helps Cut Your Clothes Budget

Laundering at home has advantages other than the luxury of owning automatic laundry equipment.

By doing your own laundry, for example, only a single stock of clothing and linen is required. No longer is it necessary to have double quantities of everything —one in use and one at the laundry. Your washables are always on hand for immediate use.

Sorting, counting and listing separate articles is unnecessary also, when the laundry is not sent out, but done at home.

Lost items always turn up because clothes never leave home, and pairs find their way back to each other again, even if laundered in different loads on different days.

Servants in Home Being Replaced By Appliances

By the end of this decade, the household servant is likely to be a thing of the past in this country.

Domestics are being replaced by major appliance automation.

According to figures cited by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, there were 420,119 domestics employed in 1930; only 227,781 in 1940, and only 140,296 by 1950. The 1950 figure averages out to a little more than three domestics per 100 dwellings.

Modern kitchens with thermostatically controlled and easy-to-clean ranges and other appliances have cut the need for domestic help.

KEYSTONE OF THE DREAM KITCHEN is the modern cabinet sink. Replace your old sink with a new cabinet model to put increased efficiency into your existing kitchen and make the room so much more pleasant to work in.

Laundry No Problem For Smart St. Nicks

So your wife has just gone out to do some Christmas shopping and she left you with the family wash? That's no problem at all.

Here are a few tips on doing the laundry the way your wife does it.

First, sort the laundry into piles of white, colored and man-made fiber garments (your Dacron slacks, for instance). The manufacturer's label should tell you the construction of the garment.

Set aside the clothing that have dark colors that are apt to fade. Give these a separate wash, for they might fade or spot the other garments. Brush the sand, grass and dirt that may have accumulated out of the trouser pockets and cuffs, and apply some detergent directly to all badly soiled or grease stained areas. Close the zippers on all the clothes.

First Things First

Wash the white clothes first, and keep the water hot. White clothes of natural fibers can stand the hottest water.

For bleaching, following directions on the package to obtain the proper amount. Add the bleach to the water and allow the machine to agitate for a full minute.

Use a measuring cup and follow the directions on the box or bottle when adding detergent. Remember that too many suds cut down the washing action.

When loading the machine, place about nine pounds of clothes in the machine (if the washer is standard size), or load the machine until the loosely folded clothes come within two inches of the tip of the agitator basket.

Large pieces should be mixed with smaller items, rather than be washed together.

After the white things are washed, the light colored items have their turn. If your machine is equipped wtih a suds-saving device you can use the same water, or if fresh water is drawn, turn the water temperature down to "warm."

The next load will contain more heavily soiled cottons. Use clean, hot water.

When you do the synthetic fibers, if you have an automatic machine, set the wash temperature at "cold" and the agitation and spin speeds at "slow" or "synthetic fabrics" setting. Separate by colors. Put clothes in washer and let it run its complete cycle.

Follow Directions

Follow directions on starch package as to amount. Pour the starch in the machine and let it mix with the water before putting in the clothes. After the load is removed, wipe the agitator basket with a clean cloth to remove excess starch.

As each load of clothes comes from the automatic washer load it into the dryer. For loads of heavy sheets and pillow cases, set the dryer temperature on "high" with the time at 35 to 45 minutes, depending on the size of the load.

Cotton sport shirts and children's play clothes should be dried at "medium" settings, with a time of 15 to 25 minutes. For synthetics, set the dryer temperature on "low" and the time control dial at from five to 10 minutes.

If the load is small, use the minimum amount of time, and if you're in doubt about the time setting, use a shorter, rather than a longer, period of time. Clothes that stay in the dryer too long have a stiff, scratchy feel when first taken out. "Overdrying" destroys the natural moisture present in all fabrics and, besides spoiling the appearance and feel of the fabric, hastens deterioration.

Synthetic fabrics require special handling. If washed in cold water and dried in the proper amount of time they will require a minimum, if any, ironing. Too much heat, either in the washer or dryer, causes wrinkles to set. Washing in cold water with the proper amount of agitation followed by low dryer heat or warm sunshine, causes wrinkles to pop out and leave clothes looking fresh.

That's it, mister. Really nothing to it, is there? What's that? You say if everything's that simple, you'll offer to take care of the house and let your wife go to work. Good deal.

Long Lasting

Tests indicate that home washed linens and clothing last from 33 1/3 per cent to 100 per cent longer than those commercially laundered.

Newest Model Refrigerator Choicest Gift

New refrigerators make it so easy to be the perfect housewife. And that applies to budget, as well as high priced, models.

Today's refrigerators come equipped with such quality-insurance features as separate cooling systems for fresh and frozen food, special locker shelves that maintain proper temperature for chilling beverages and salads, automatic butter keeper, and meat compartments.

Freezing compartments are now larger, and permit easier storage, what with package dispensers and pull-out bins or shelves. Many models have their freezing compartments at the bottom, so that every-day foods, in the refrigerator section, are at more accessible heights.

Some refrigerators require only the touch of a toe on a foot pedal to open the door. This leaves both hands free, a blessing that any housewife recognizes. Some models have doors that can be opened by a slight press with the elbow, again allowing both hands to be free. One company has a handle the length of the door, for easy opening. Some open at the touch of finger grips at the base.

Magnetic doors require only a tap to close them. You can select a door to open either right or left, and one producer has a model that opens both ways.

Many refrigerators have shelves that either revolve or roll out, eliminating the frustration of having to unload the entire shelf to get to the ketchup in the back. Shelves are adjustable up or down.

Several manufacturers are aiming at straight line beauty, emphasizing flat planes with nothing bulging or protruding. This, along with ventilation forced through a front grille, permits installation flush against the wall. The built-in look is yours even with a free-standing model.

Appliance Gifts Can Be Given as Surprise

It's easy to let Mom know that you've gotten her a new major appliance for Christmas—even though she doesn't find it under the tree on Christmas morning.

Since an appliance is rather bulky, it can't easily be brought into the house and hidden away for the big surprise. But, by appropriately wrapping another little gift, either to resemble the appliance that you have bought, or related to it in some way, she'll will quickly get the point.

Here are some gift ideas and details on how to wrap them for each appliance:

Freezer

A gift of freezer wrap, useful in a new freezer, can take on a penguin look. Wrap the box in white crepe paper. A Christmas tree ball, covered with black crepe paper is placed on top for the head, and matching crepe around the three sides of the box becomes the jacket. Yellow gummed paper forms the webbed feet and beak.

Dryer

For a basket surprise, gather bright red cellophane around a tiny basket, like one used in the laundry room, that is filled with hankies for Mom. Tie with gay green ribbon and a bunch of shiny gold beads. The hankies can be the first things to be tried out in the new dryer.

Range

What looks like a gay mandolin is really a tiny frying pan in which mother can melt butter on her new range. Wrap the pan in bright green gift paper with handle uncovered. Draw white threads from the handle over the center, which is gold notarial seal, and trim with white ribbons.

Refrigertor

A curled fringe of white crepe paper forms the snowy beard, the mustache and the fluffy tip on the red crepe paper cap placed on a small toy refrigerator. Blue notarial seals make the eyes, with nose and mouth of red gummed paper. These trimmings make both a jaunty Santa and a novel preview of a wonderful gift to come.

Hot Water Heater

Cologne to keep Mother cool and refreshed throughout the year heralds a new hot water heater. Wrap the cologne in pretty pink crepe paper. Add a construction-paper thermometer and a deeper pink ribbon bow.

Washing Machine

A toy washing machine plus a ping-pong ball make a jolly jack-tin-the-box. Wrap all but the top of the machine in red, green and white striped paper. Punch a small hole in the ping-pong ball and tuck in one end of a coiled piped cleaner and attach to washer. Add stars and red signal dots for eyes and mouth, and a cone shaped cap of striped paper.

Ironer

A long-billed cockatoo's Christmas paper plumage is made to conceal a toy iron, symbolizing a brand new ironer that Mom is getting. The fan-tail is pleated gift wrap; the eyes are black reinforcements; the beak is orange gummed paper.

Sink

Cover a toy sink in red crepe paper and chalk on brick markings. Make Santa's lower half and mittens of colored gummed crepe papers. It looks as though Santa is coming to tell of the new sink that will soon be there.

Dishwasher

Both the hand lotion and a new dishwasher will help to beautify Mother's pretty hands. Wrap the hand lotion in gleaming blue metallic paper, with a pale pink bow. The hands are cut from pink gummed paper with variety store "jewels" as further trim.

Call Modern Ironer Great Emancipator

The originator of the proverb, "hard work never hurt anybody," could not have been the one who did the family ironing by hand.

Anyone who had this chore to perform knows what a "back-breaker" it literally is, and there are scientific studies to support this belief.

No wonder the arrival of automatic ironers was hailed by housewives everywhere as a "great emancipator."

Consider the time saving. Where ironing by hand requires hours to do, you can do shirts with an automatic ironer at the rate of one in four minutes.

And while the woman who does the ironing for a family of four by hand does four tons of lifting a week—just in picking up the iron—doing the job with an automatic ironer is effortless. You sit while the appliance does the work.

No more tired arms, aching back or abdominal and leg strain. Your clothes are neat, fresh, machine-perfect; your sheets have a wonderful silky finish.

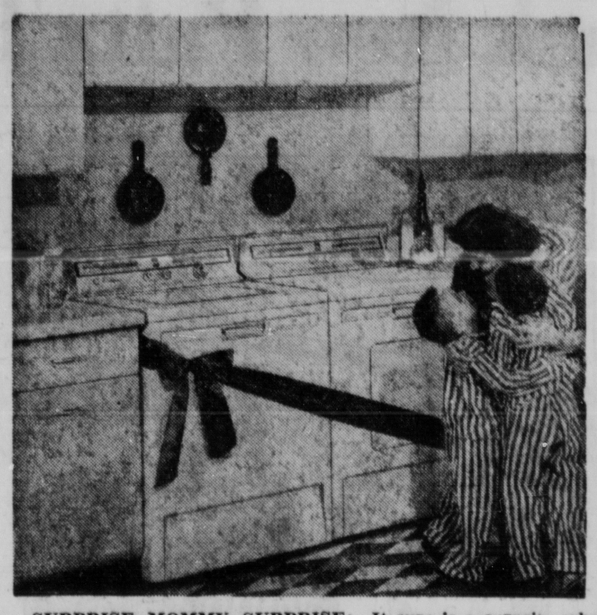

You'll be proud of your work. You'll feel refreshed at the end of your ironing—no more look or feel of drugery.

The hours you formerly spent at the ironing board you now will be able to enjoy doing so many of the things you wanted to do "if only I didn't have this ironing.

Automatic ironers come in several styles. Cabinet type units, which have white enamel finish, have lap panels to support dampened articles before they go through the roll, and one or two extensions shelves for stacking folded items after finishing. Some have height casters that can be adjusted to the height of the user.

A console designed ironer comes in steel or wood finishes. There are portable models, which can be rolled into storage spots when not in use, and table top models.

Whatever the type, the automatic ironer spells freedom.

SURPRISE, MOMMY, SURPRISE: It sure is a surprise when Mommy comes into the kitchen to find her new automatic washer and dryer. And there will be many more surprises when she starts to use her new appliances. There is no garment, whether it's made of the usual natural fibers or the new synthetic materials, that can't be washed and dried in today's automatic washer and dryer.

Gift of Dryer Is Welcome As Sunshine

Getting a dryer to make your Christmas a white one will mean more than just new freedom from drudgery. Weather, for example, may still be a concern for picnics, but won't be a factor when it comes to drying a few loads of wash.

Come rain or shine, the dryer creates perfect weather conditions to allow you to choose your own laundering time—day or night. It not only frees you from weather worries, but dries 15 times faster than the clothesline method. It also saves 20 full working days a year.

What a relief to be absolutely independent of the whims of Mother Nature, who may or may not cooperate with sunshine on the day you want to dry the wash.

With an automatic dryer, any day, or even night, is a good drying time. Just pop the wash into the dryer, set the simple controls and your clothes and linens bask in clean, warm breezes until they are dried to perfection.

Thoughtful homemakers, who realize there is an element of risk involved in outdoor drying, consider cleanliness as one of a dryer's most appealing features. Outdoors, clothes are buffeted by airborne germs, soot and dust. They are whipped and frayed by the wind, baked by glaring sun until they're stiff or else splattered by sudden squalls of rain or snow.

Also, the wash hanging outdoors is at the mercy of curious dogs and romping children, and occasionally a light-fingered passerby who may take possession of choice items of wearing apparel.

While you were previously tied down to the house for a whole day when there was a load of wash and dry to be done, you now have another day to yourself—when there is a dryer in the laundryroom.

Union College Turns Back New Paltz Teachers Quintet, 89-53

Schenectady '5' Never Headed After Early Lead

Union College spoiled the season's basketball debut of New Paltz Teachers, handing the Hawks an 89-53 setback last night on the NP Central School court.

The Schenectady cagers rolled to an early 12-2 lead and never were headed. Their halftime margin was 20 points, 48-28.

Cole of the visitors paced both sides with 21 points. Teammates Krumb and Robertson canned 19 and 12.

Jack Hussnatter banged in 13 for the Hawks' top effort. Sol Glodin manufactured 11.

Title Bout

Brown 3-1 Over Lopes

CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown meets challenger Joey Lopes in a 15-round title fight at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

The 31-year-old champion from New Orleans figures that he'll beat Lopes, but that the challenger will be a lot tougher than he was last August when the two fought to a draw in the same Chicago Stadium ring.

"When a kid is fighting for the title," says Brown, "he knows he'll only get one chance, so you always know that he's going to put up his toughest fight because he may never get another chance at it."

Brown Heavy Choice

Nevertheless, Brown is a solid 3-1 favorite to retain his title and the odds are 2-1 it will be by a knockout.

Brown, champion for the last 15 months and making his third title defense has a 66-14-9 record, including 28 knockouts.

Lopes, a 27-year-old from Sacramento, Calif., has a 41-13-3 record with 17 kayos.

"I beat Brown last August," said Lopes, "but they called it a draw. I'll beat him so thoroughly this time there'll be no question about it."

The fight will be nationally televised (ABC—10 p.m.) with Chicago blacked out.

Aggies' Bryant Set for Alabama

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, who pulled Texas A&M from the mire of losing football seasons, has been released from his contract here and is expected to sign soon for an attempt to do the same for Alabama, his alma mater.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, A&M president, announced yesterday Bryant has been freed from his contract at Bryant's request. His contract had seven years to run.

Golf Prize Raised

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) —The Royal and Ancient Golf Club yesterday boosted the prize money for the British open to 4,850 pounds ($13,580)—an increase of 1,100 pounds ($3,080). The first prize will remain at 1,000 pounds ($2,800).

$636 Double

BALTIMORE (AP) — First-race victor Laurchar ($43.40) and Rustic Billy ($29) in the second completed a $636.40 daily double at Pimlico Race Course yesterday.

Evelyn Gross Has 531 Best Series In KWBA Action

Evelyn Gross fired 531 in the leadoff spot and Judy Lowe anchored with 519 to pace IBM's No. 1 squad to the early lead of 2436 in the Class A division of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association tournament.

Mrs. Gross stacked games of 171, 191 and 169. Miss Lowe rallied from a 119 opener with a pair of 200s. Beverly Van Voorhis contributed 432, Peggy Norton 430 and Shirley Will 365 to the leading total.

Mae Gilmartin's 418 and Wilma Stephens' 417 sparked Gilmartin's Lunch to the Class B lead with 2280.

Top shooter for the Class C leaders—Keeley's Insurance of New Paltz with 1912—was Joyce Knickerbocker with 425.

Y Jayvees Win Third Straight

Kingston YMCA Junior Varsity made it three in a row, 91-25, over Port Ewen yesterday.

Tall Bill Lawrence had a hot hand, firing 29 points on 12 baskets and 5 free throws. Four teammates scored in double figures; Pete Coffey (16), Joe Mauceri (16), Ken Sickler (15), Van DeMark (13).

Lawrence scored 8 in the first period to pace his team to a 14-3 lead and tallied 12 in the second as the JVs waltzed to a 46-6 lead. Coffey contributed 8 in the second period spree.

Coach Dick Case began cleaning his bench early in the third period as his quintet rolled up a 68-18 lead.

Mauceri was one of the standouts of the game in his debut. Hickler and Lawrence paced the backboard play.

The much smaller Port Ewen team was led by Jim Tinney with 9. He also played a fine floor game.

The Jayvees swing back into action Thursday.

400,000 Hunters In Woods For Antlerless Deer Windup

ALBANY (AP) — Thousands of hunters stepped out in crisp temperatures and new snow today to mourn the last day of New York's 1957 big game season and celebrate the first statewide open deer season in about 40 years.

About 400,000 hunters are expected to be out stalking deer of either sex and bear.

Below - freezing temperatures and snow flurries were forecast generally across the state.

The Conservation Department has authorized the taking of deer of all species, whether bucks, does or fawns, on the final day.

In densely-populated Putnam, Sullivan and Ulster counties, last-day permits were required in order to cut down on the number of hunters. The permits were obtainable from county clerks.

Under conservation law, a hunter may bag only one deer and one bear a year. The deer must be a buck with antlers at least three inches long, except when the killing of does and fawns is permitted.

The department authorized today's antlerless deer season to prevent deer overpopulation, which causes feeding problems and widespread starvation among the herds.

Kill Running Higher

The department estimated the deer population at 361,000 before the season's opening Oct. 25. The deer kill is reported to be running considerably higher than last year.

Of 72,315 deer reported taken legally last year, 36,723 were antlerless. Most of the latter were taken by gunshot on the final day, when an open season was declared in 32 counties.

Archers shot 826 deer, 281 of them bucks.

On a normal weekend, hunting day, the department said, between 300,000 and 400,000 hunters turn out, while about 10 per cent of the licensed hunters show up on a week day.

The pre-season bear population was reckoned at between 3,000 and 3,500. Last year 419 bear were taken.

The seasons on rabbits, squirrels, grouse, raccoons and waterfowl continue beyond today and close on varying dates.

Chamberlain Opens With 30

SMU, Louisville and Indiana Upended in College Openers

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

The 1957-1958 college basketball season is only one day old today and already two of the mighty teams have fallen and Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain has indicated he's retained his amazing scoring touch.

Chamberlain, who averaged 29.6 points a game as a sophomore last year, dropped in 30 points last night as Kansas opened with a 63-56 victory over Oklahoma State.

The Jayhawks' success was expected. Unexpected developments, however, were Southern Methodist's 66-52 setback by Minnesota and Louisville's 92 - 82 loss to Evansville. SMU was ranked fourth and Louisville sixth in the nation in the final returns of 1956-1957.

Indiana, which is figured to have a good chance for the Big Ten championship, surprisingly was knocked off by Ohio University of the Mid-American Conference, 76-68.

Spartans Impress

Other Big Ten teams came through handsomely. Michigan State got 30 points from John Green and tripped Butler 74-55. Northwestern rode over Western Michigan 97-78. Wisconsin finished strong to defeat South Dakota 63-56, Purdue beat Miami of Ohio 79-66 and Illinois whipped Marquette, 100-90.

Kentucky, ranked third last season, had to rally in the final two minutes to outlast Duke 78-74 while Vanderbilt and Oklahoma City, two more of last year's elite, had less trouble in their openers. Vanderbilt walloped Sewanee 91-53 and Oklahoma City defeated Houston 85-75.

Jean Claude Lefebvre, a 7 foot, 3¼ inch Frenchman, was unveiled by Gonzaga. The 280-pound giant scored 13 points in his American debut as Gonzaga ripped the College of Idaho 71-37.

The San Francisco Dons, national champs two years ago, beat Chico State 74-31 and Stanford defeated College of Pacific 77-61 in other West Coast games.

Flips 13 Field Goals

Chamberlain had 13 field goals and 4 of 8 from the free throw line as the Jayhawks took an 8-6 lead after seven minutes and never were headed. Oklahoma State pulled to within one point at half-time. But Chamberlain hit two quick field goals after the intermission to get his team rolling.

Southern Methodist cut a Minnesota lead to 38-37 midway in the second half. Then Whitey Johnson pumped in three field goals for the Gophers to start the winners on another surge.

Without Charley Tyra and several other graduates, Louisville never could get going against Evansville. Louisville trailed by three points at the half and never caught up.

Yardley Hits At 28 Per Clip

NEW YORK (AP)—George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons, in ninth place at this time a year ago, has taken a comfortable lead in the 1957-1958 race for individual scoring honors in the National Basketball Assn. He scored 158 points in last week's games, giving him a 476 total and an average of 28.0 points a game for the campaign.

Fights Last Night

NEW YORK—Gene Armstrong, 158, Elizabeth, N. J., outpointed Reybon Stubbs, 156½, Pittsburgh, 10.

NEW ORLEANS — Larry Armstead, 138, New Orleans, outpointed Teddy Davis, 139, Hartford, Conn. 10.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Steve Ward, 145½, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Gene Butler, 143½, Boston, 10.

Saugerties Dart Race Tightens As Leaders Lose

Losses by the top teams in Saugerties Dartball League games Monday night tightened the pennant race as the league neared the completion of the first half of the schedule. Service Center B's and Glasco Vols, tied for first place, held on to their slight margin.

Service Center B's dropped two to Trinity and Glasco Vols lost to Centerville firemen 2 to 1. Third place Cementon was upset 2 to 1 by Ruby.

Other scores: Katsbaan 1, Glasco AC 2; West Camp 3, Cedar Grove 0; Veteran 2, Service Center A's 1 and Centerville 1, Mt. Marion 2. Quarryville was not scheduled.

Saul Says:

Right after the Thanksgiving turkey is but a memory, — the Christmas Spirit takes over. Shops shine out with tinsel and toys—Christmas trees sprout on every corner—and small boys and girls behave like little angels. Carols greet you from doorways, dull dark streets become fairy lanes with many hued lights and folks who haven't spoken to each other for years smile as they pass by loaded down with mysterious packages, all gaily wrapped and ribboned. It's the Christmas spirit, friends—and it's around this whole month. Enjoy it.

And make your joy complete with safe, careful driving, especially important now that snow and sleet put hazards in your way. If you haven't already taken care of snow tires, better come in. I can save you money and give you that Winter driving assurance that only our sure-grip snow tires can guarantee.

High School Opens Season Friday With Arlington

The DUSO League Sportswriters' Association annual balloting for the All-DUSO football team was conducted in a non-belligerent atmosphere, a far cry from the haggling that surrounded last year's voting.

For one thing, the Coach of the Year selection was obvious. Coach Willard A. Burke of Kingston High, who deserved the accolade, was unopposed this time. The record speaks for itself.

Marvin Engle, one of the all-time KHS ends, won by a 7 to 3 vote over Poughkeepsie's Deke Johnson for the Player of the Year award.

Although Kingston placed five men on the first team, failure of the writers to pick Jerry McDonough over Russ Devore of Port Jervis for the quarterback slot came as a distinct disappointment to the Kingston representatives. There simply wasn't a finer quarterback than McDonough in the DUSO League and his expert handling of the Maroon in the Turkey day cakewalk over Newburgh climaxed a standout season.

The writers can be wrong. They were wrong in not picking Burke in 1956. They erred in bypassing McDonough in 1957.

The selection of Burke broke down the provincialism that influenced thinking in other DUSO cities. Our DUSO colleagues are all competent, intelligent young men who know their way around a keyboard. But we have been unable to buy their perennial complaints that Burke always gets "top drawer material." The kids in Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Newburgh and Port Jervis must be made of the same stuff as ours. There must be something about this coaching business.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Ed Gleed, sports editor of the Middletown Record, is easily the Beau Brummel of the journalistic fraternity in the area . . . Three of the four sports editors—Gleed, "Bo" Gill of Newburgh and George Palmateer of Poughkeepsie—are sporting crew cuts, the new trend in tonsorial fashions. We would join the parade if we had enough hair, but maybe we can induce Sam Anzalone to take the step . . . The DUSO writers realigned the voting strength for future balloting, alloting two votes to each city. Each of the Middletown newspapers will have one vote and mountain weeklies are entitled to a half vote in the basketball selections. The village All-DUSO teams in soccer and baseball were also brought under the jurisdiction of the writers . . . Ralph Frederick, DUSO Sportswriters treasurer, and one of the old timers on the circuit, has blossomed into a TV personality for a closed circuit of 1500 in Tri-State city area.

• Of Men and Mice:

Hudson Valley Basketball League launched its season with a thriller between Pine Plains Bombardiers and Stewart Field of Newburgh . . . Dick Ostrander, former LIU cager, has been added to the Poughkeepsie-Staatsburgh quintet. Two other newcomers to Manager Walt Bentson's lineup are Jack Dawson of Western Reserve and Bill Madden of Bridgeport University. Other cagers on the roster at present are all well known in the mid-Hudson area—Bud Herrmann, high scorer and playmaker for the Staatsburg Legionnaires last season, Tom Murphy, Bob Blake, Floyd Jones, Tony Sinibaldi and Bentson . . . Tony Lindemann of Detroit faces Foy Belcher of Los Angeles on "Bowling Stars" Sunday at 8:30 p. m. . . . William V. McCormick of Saugerties has earned a varsity soccer letter at Ithaca College. The 1957 booters posted the most victories of any in the 24 years of Ithaca College soccer history. The team won seven of 10 matches, shut out five opponents and scored 27 goals to nine for the opposition. McCormick is enrolled in physical education.

HOT MONEY: Chick Lang, who is agent for jockey Bill Hartack, got a telephone call at his home in Baltimore after piloting his 339th winner of the year, Promised Land at Jamaica. "How much money have his mounts this year?" Lang answered. "Well, the last one brought it to $3,022,039. And he has taken 44 stakes. "What am I doing with all my money?" 10 percenter Lang smiled. "Why it's simple. I go outside every morning and rake it together with the leaves, then set a match to the whole thing.

Ace Armstrong Wins 13th Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Gene (Ace) Armstrong, the winner, and Rebon Stubbs the loser, both were lined up today for January fights at St. Nicholas Arena as a reward for their rousing scrap last night.

Armstrong of Elizabeth, N. J., will be matched against a "name" middleweight on Jan. 20, while Stubbs, a fine prospect from Pittsburgh, will meet Sugar Hart of Philadelphia Jan. 7. That was the program outlined for the two by matchmaker Teddy Brenner.

In making his record 13-0, the 158-pound Ace had to uncork a strong rally to edge the fast-punching, 23 - year - old Stubbs. Stubbs, 156½ pounds, made his television debut in this one and it was impressive despite the defeat—his third against 19 victories.

Eleven Players Survive Final Paring of Squad

Kingston High opens its basketball season Friday against Arlington at Kate Walton field house and Coach Jack Gilligan is bent on starting things off on the right foot.

Last year, the Dutchess County quintet dealt the locals a pulsating 62-58 opening setback and that greased the skids for an early slump. The Maroon lost five of its first six and didn't rebound until whipping Arlington in the return engagement after the holiday break. KHS went on from there to win six of its next nine and finish with a .500 record of 8-8.

Gilligan has made his final player cut and will carry a relatively small squad of 11 as things stand at the moment. Last season, he carried a bulky squad of 14 and several boys were of little or no help and seldom saw action.

2 Regulars Back

Two of his players — Bob Strong and George Uhl — are returning regulars. Three others —Norm Wells, Pat Sangaline and Joe Klonowski — were squadmen, although the latter came fast during the end of the year and became a frontline operative.

The rest of the squad is brand new and up from the Jayvees. They are John Kelly, Bob Short, Hobie Armstrong, Jerry McDonough, Charlie Williams and Dave O'Conner. These lads come off a tremendous JV team which captured 15 and dropped just 3.

"We are going to have a fluid team," Gilligan said. "Right now things are pretty much wide open but I have my ideas about who will start in a couple of places Friday."

Klonowski Impresses

Klonowski is one of the lads who has caught Gilligan's eye. The Maroon mentor feels he's improved tremendously and may be one of the keys to the club's fortunes.

Newcomers Short, Kelly and Williams are others Gilligan speaks glowingly. The first two possess great shooting ability and look like they can't miss. Williams has good all-around talent, a quick pair of hands and is a real hustler.

Uhl is perhaps one of the boys Gilligan is referring to when he hints about probable starters. The 5-11 senior came out of nowhere early last year to land a starting post and has progressed rapidly in every department ever since. He's looked better than ever in workouts and appears a sure-fire bet to open at one of the guard slots.

Wells 6-5

Wells, at 6-5, is the biggest boy on the team. He is a rugged individual who, if he finds himself, could be a tower of strength off the boards and in scoring.

Sangaline is one of the few reserves from last year who survived the axe. Gilligan, with regrets, had to slice three seniors from the squad—Bruce Ruffner, Ken Wilson and Ron Bailer—but is keeping Sangaline who boasts a good set shot and is experienced.

The rest of the boys just reported yesterday after finishing with football. Strong heads the group and will probably step right into a starting role. Last year he was a regular forward but may be moved to center. He, perhaps more than any other player, is being counted by Gilligan to come through big.

Two Small Men

Of the 11, only two boys can be classifid as "small." Short is 5-8 and Williams 5-9. The rest are about six-feet or btter.

Wells, of course, is the tallest. Strong is 6-3 and Klonowski 6-2. They are being counted on for much of the board work.

Gilligan has good speed to augment the big boys. His swifties are Kelly, Short, Williams and Uhl.

Uhl's brother, Joe, is a fine looking freshman prospect who is thought of highly. He'll start the year on the Jayvees but may be moved up depending on how he progresses.

Kingston has held two outside scrimmages with Saugerties and Wappingers Falls. As a final tuneup, it will go against Roosevelt Wednesday on the FDR floorboards.

Coast League Accepts 900G to Settle Damages

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —The Pacific Coast League moved today to set up shop in three new cities after agreeing to accept $900,000 for pulling out of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The damage settlement from the invading National League Dodgers and Giants will be split up at $150,000 apiece by six clubs — Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, San Diego, Sacramento and Hollywood.

PCL's San Francisco franchise —owned by the Giants—will be moved to Phoenix, Ariz. The Los Angeles club, property of the Dodgers, will go to Spokane. The Hollywood club is tentatively scheduled for Salt Lake City.

"I cannot say we're completely satisfied," said Leslie O'Connor, PCL president. "And I suppose neither are they (Dodgers and Giants). We had to come up and they had to come down."

The settlement last night provides for the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers to pay damages to the PCL from gate receipts over the next three years. The agreement was reached at the opening day of the annual meeting of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues (minors).

Depends on Fields

O'Connor's announcement said the shifts to Spokane, Phoenix and Salt Lake City depend upon those cities making park improvements to meet PCL standards and granting satisfactory leases. Those conditions must be met by Dec. 16.

The PCL settlement came amidst growing concern by minor league executives over plans for a Sunday telecast of major league baseball into minor league territory.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick joined the outcry from the minors. He said "I think it's bad. I pull no punches about that I wish it were possible to make a ruling against it. We'd put it into effect tomorrow. But we have been put on warning by the Justice Department."

Frank J. Shaughnessy, International League president who is leading the fight against a Sunday TV game, said he would carry a suit to the Supreme Court if necessary to block the TV proposal.

Convention business started with the draft by major league clubs of 11 players from the minor leagues at an outlay of $135,000. The first choice went to the Washington Senators, who picked second baseman Bob Malkmus of Wichita in the American Assn.

Has 34 Points

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Marshall of Hershey heads the individual scoring race in the American Hockey League with 34 points, followed by Bill Sweeney of Providence with 31.

Chicago Cardinals Draft John Crow and King Hill

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Football League drafted 49 standout college football players, made peace with its players and moved to bring its constitution and by-laws within the Anti-Trust Act at a day-long meeting here yesterday.

League coaches and their staffs spent some five hours poring over scouting reports as they moved through four of the 30 rounds in the annual player draft. The balance of the draft will be held at the league's regular mid-winter meeting next month. The preliminary selections were to give NFL teams equal footing with early - drafting Canadian League clubs.

Top choices in the draft were King Hill, 210-pound Rice quarterback and John Crow, Texas A&M fullback, both taken by the Chicago Cardinals.

Immediately after the draft the owners quickly approved recommendations by Commissioner Bert Bell that they give the Players Assn. all it wanted. They approved $50 per game exhibition pay, a $5,000 minimum salary, an injury protection clause and recognition of the association as formal representative of the players.

Bell said language in the constitution and bylaws regarding ticket prices, limitation of fees allowed College All-Stars for games against pro teams, and several other items were rephrased to comply with the anti-trust law.

Injury Shelves Henri Richard

MONTREAL (AP) — Henri Richard's bid to win his first individual scoring championship in the National Hockey League may have been dealt a damaging blow by an injury received in an exhibition game last night.

Richard crashed into the boards and suffered a knee hemorrhage. His brother Maurice, also of the Montreal Canadiens, was sidelined Nov. 14 with a cut achilles tendon.

The latest statistics released today showed Henri at the top of the scoring competition with 30 points, one more than teammate Jean Beliveau.

Tigers Receive 210 Votes in Final AP Poll

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Unbeaten, untied Auburn, a latecomer among college football powers, ruled as the national champion today with a fat bulge over Ohio State and Michigan States in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Auburn will be the first national champion to receive the Associated Press Trophy, put into competition this season as a successor to the Father Hugh O'Donnell Memorial Trophy that was retired by Oklahoma last fall.

The Tigers pulled in 210 first place votes and an overpowering total of 3,123 points in the balloting by 360 sportswriters and broadcasters.

Auburn drew the highest number of first-place votes since Oklahoma pulled in a record 218 in the final 1955 poll. The Sooners, who polled 104 first-place votes in repeating last season, finished fourth this season.

Barred From Bowls

Auburn, the Southeastern Conference champion but barred from bowl play by NCAA action, had appeared among the top 10 in only one other final poll, finishing eighth in '55.

This year, the Tigers (10-0) didn't make the top until the next to last weekly poll of the season, taking over from Ohio State—which in turn had replaced Michigan State.

Ohio State and Michigan State, both with 8-1 records, finished some 500 points behind Auburn in the balloting, which awards points on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second, eight for thrd, etc. The Buckeyes, the Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl representatives who were beaten only by Texas Christian in the season opener, collected 71 first-place votes and 2,646 points.

Michigan State, which did not meet Ohio State in season play, had 30 first-place votes and 2,550 points. Oklahoma (9-1) picked up 22 first place votes and 2,182 points.

The rest of the top 10 were Navy, Iowa, Mississippi, Rice, Texas A&M and Notre Dame.

Arizona State (10-0), the only other major unbeaten, untied team at season's close, finished 12th.

Students Celebrate

Five thousand students held a gigantic pep rally and paraded through downtown Auburn yesterday after learning that their Tigers had won the trophy.

Greeted by thunderous cheers at the rally, Coach Ralph (Shug) Jordan said, "As far as I'm concerned Auburn has been No. 1 all year." Then he added:

"I want to thank all of those people all over the nation who went to bat for the Tigers in the poll."

Later Jordan confessed to newsmen:

"Early in the season we had worries about the middle of our line where we had to start two sophomores. Our fears proved groundless, because those two boys were great all season."

He referred to center Jackie Burkett, who called defensive signals, and guard Zeke Smith. Both were outstanding in their final appearances of the season when Auburn crushed Alabama 40-0 in a show of offensive power that compared favorably with the Tigers' No. 1 national rating on defense.

Blackburn Stays

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati announced yesterday that George Blackburn will be retained as head football coach at his present salary of $11,500.

Audacious Thieves

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Officials of a Tulsa department store have seen a lot of audacious shoplifters but nothing like two young women recently arrested.

They took a briefcase from one floor and tried to get a $14 refund on it from a clerk on another floor. They were charged with deceit.

Meter Maids

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) —Three housewives here are making motorists meterminded. Assigned to $200 a month jobs as "meter maids," they check overtime parking, releasing city patrolmen for other police duties.

Record Year

State Haul 76 Million From Race Track Take

ALBANY (AP)—More than 11 million persons crowded pari-mutuel race tracks in New York State this year and produced a whopping $76,141,410 in state tax revenue. Both totals are the highest ever.

Both flat and harness tracks attracted more patrons this year than ever before. Overall attendance was 11,169,536, compared with the previous record of 10,069,959 last year.

The flats drew 5,031,546 patrons, compared with 4,681,806 the year before, and the harness ovals admitted 6,137,990, compared with 5,388,153 last year.

The figures were announced yesterday by the State Tax Department. They represent 783 days of flat and harness racing. Last year there were 740 days.

The state made $73,998,563 in pari - mutuel revenue, compared with last year's high of $70,652,158. This represents $43,189,990 from the flats and $30,808,573 from the sulky tracks. Both are records.

Added to this is $2,142,847 in admissions tax and $291,424 representing uncashed winning tickets from the 1956 season.

The department thus came up with a total 1957 racing revenue of $76,432,834. Last year it was $72,755,034, then a record.

The betting handle at the harness tracks also hit a new high—$387,757,390 in 572 racing days. Last year the handle was $325,420,967 in 543 racing days.

The flat tracks' handle was $416,941,870 in 211 racing days, higher than the $381,706,245 wagered last year but below the record $450,663,190 in the 1945 season. In both previous years there were 197 racing days.

Fourteen days were added this year to the flat-track season by a new state law linked with the tracks' reconstruction program. This was done to offset a cut that the state agreed to take in its share of the pari-mutuel betting pool.

This year the state took 10 per cent from New York City tracks and 9 per cent from Saratoga. Its take used to be 11 per cent in New York and 10 at the Upstate track.

The tracks were allowed to keep the one per cent to help finance a multi-million-dollar construction program.

Similarly, $4,442,411 was placed in a special construction fund for harness tracks. This money is set aside under a 1956 law that allocates a part of the betting pool for track construction.

The State Harness Racing Commission will decide how much of this money may be returned to the tracks to help pay for improvements made this year. The tax department gave this breakdown on construction fund deposits:

Roosevelt Raceway $2,858,495; Buffalo Trotting Assn. (Hamburg) $100,063; Saratoga Harness Racing Assn. $76,450; Genesee-Monroe Racing Assn. (Batavia) $86,842; Mid-State Raceway Inc. (Vernon) $116,527; Orange County Driving Park Assn. (Goshen) $789; Yonkers Raceway $1,184,742; and Orange County Driving Park Assn. (at Saratoga) $18,499.

Blue Devils Play Otisville

Ellenville High Celebrates Cage Anniversary Tonight

Ellenville High dedicates its new gymnasium and celebrates its Golden Anniversary of basketball tonight when it takes on Otisville High.

Colorful ceremonies are planned between the junior varsity and varsity games. Alumni from the 1907 class are expected to be present. Included among them is Dr. Arch Freer, a star on the original '07 team, who will toss out the first ball.

Speakers will include Miles Furman, Ellenville Board of Education president; John C. Braun, supervising principal; Mayor Eugene Glusker and Ward Young, DUSO League vice president.

Coach Chuck Walsh has settled on three starters to face the Warriors. Captain Jim Reed will be at center, Ben Davis, at one forward and Charlie Kushner at guard. The other two spots are wide open.

The Jayvee game is slated for 6:30. The dedication ceremonies will go off at about 8 o'clock.

Upstate Court

Buffalo Bills Avert Upset

BUFFALO (AP)—The University of Buffalo has opened the Upstate college basketball season with a hair-raising last - second victory that will be hard to beat.

The Bulls squeaked past Oswego State 57-56 last night on Bob Kirchberger's layup moments before the final buzzer. As the buzzer sounded, Oswego's Ralph Stile made a long shot from well past half - court. It dropped straight through the hoop.

But the referee called it illegal. He said time had run out and besides, the ball had not been taken out of bounds before the shot.

Interest in Reade Theatre Denied By Wallace Store

A report that The Wallace Company, operating a store on Main Street, Poughkeepsie, was negotiating for purchase of the Walter Reade Kingston Theatre property on Wall Street, was denied by an official of the company yesterday.

A vice-president of the parent corporation in Springfield, Mass., who was at the Poughkeepsie store Monday, said "it was news" to him, nothing had been considered by the operating company and he was not acquainted with the property or its location.

The names of several local concerns have been linked recently with rumors of sale of the premises, all of which to date have been denied.

The last rumor was that The Wallace Company was negotiating for purchase of the premises with the intention of opening a store here since a large volume of its business "came from the west side of the river."

Morhouse Extols Frank Gannett as Journalism Giant

ROCHESTER (AP)—State and national leaders today joined in praising Frank Gannett as a distinguished American and giant of journalism.

In Albany, Gov. Harriman extended his sympathy to the Gannett family and issued this statement:

Harriman's Tribute

"Frank E. Gannett was a distinguished American who, in a long and active career, fought tirelessly for what he regarded to be right and in the best interests of his state and country. From a small beginning at Elmira a half century ago, the Gannett newspapers have grown to be a powerful force for good government in New York State and our neighbor states. Through his wise forsight in founding the Frank E. Gannett Newspaper Foundation Inc., he assured continuation of these publications and the principle of local editorial autonomy, which has been a foundation stone of the Gannett group. I extend to Mrs. Gannett and members of the family my heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow."

L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman, praised Gannett as a "giant of journalism."

In a statement, Morhouse said: "Through his newspapers, Frank Gannett has been a stronger force for enlightened progress and decency in more communities in New York State than any man in our time.

"The integrity and independence of his newspapers, which are the clear, reasonable voice of the community's conscience, reflect the strength of character and determination of the man who rose from campus reporter to become publisher of the nation's largest group of newspapers.

Great Citizen

"Frank Gannett was a giant of journalism, not because of the number of newspapers he published, but rather because he trusted the good judgment of the people when all the facts were presented to them. He devoted a lifetime, beyond the normal measure of years, to the successful discharge of that responsibility. He was a great citizen in the finest traditions of the American ideal."

In Washington, Secretary of Welfare Folsom said in a statement:

"The death of Frank Gannett is a serious loss to the community of Rochester and to the nation as a whole. His influence for good, for time-tested American values, was very great. I would like to join his many friends in expressing my warmest sympathy to his family."

Folsom lived in Rochester for many years before coming here in 1953 in the Eisenhower administration. He is a former treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Co.

Adlai Is Sought For Paris Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said after a White House conference today that President Eisenhower wants him to attend the NATO summit conference in Paris.

The 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate said that he probably will not make a decision on whether to attend the Dec. 16 conference for another week or 10 days, pending completion of his work with Secretary of State Dulles on preparations for the meeting.

Stevenson said Eisenhower gave no indication during their 10-minute meeting whether he (Eisenhower) personally will head the American delegation.

The President's attendance once was virtually written off because of the mild stroke he suffered a week ago yesterday, but now he is awaiting word from his doctors on whether he can go after all.

This morning's talk was the first face-to-face meeting of Eisenhower and the man he twice defeated for the nation's highest post since early 1953.

After his talk with the President, Stevenson sat in for a 90-minute briefing of congressional leaders of both parties on the administration's proposals for the 15-nation parley.

Stevenson said some of those proposals may require legislation to put them into force.

PROPOSES WAGE MORATORIUM — Richard J. Gray, above, president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades department, suggested Dec. 2 a moratorium on wage increases during 1958 to his group's 49th regular convention in Atlantic City, N. J. He said he proposed the "unorthodox policy" because of inflation. (AP Wirephoto)

MISSILE MEN — Two soldiers, typical of the specialists required for the age of rockets and missiles, check the firing panel used with the Redstone missile at Huntsville, Ala.

INTERCHURCH CENTER—America's first national headquarters building for many of its churches will be a reality by 1960. Architect's presentation above shows how the new 20-million-dollar Interchurch Center will look upon its completion. The block-long, 19-story building is being erected in upper Manhattan in New York, on a site made available by John D. Rockefeller Jr., next door to famed Riverside Church overlooking the Hudson River. The structure will house the National Council of Churches and a score of other church and interchurch agencies. The building will also have underground parking for 130 cars, and a pedestrian tunnel will provide access to Riverside Church.

CLOCK IN THE CLOUDS—The world's largest super-accurate clock was recently put into operation atop the 30-story Continental National Bank Building in Fort Worth, Tex. The clock makes one complete revolution every minute and flashes the time minute by minute in giant illuminated numerals over two stories tall. It can be read day or night at distances of three miles or more. Accuracy is controlled within 1/20th of a second by a short wave signal from the National Bureau of Standards Transmitter at Beltsville, Md.

$250,000 Sought For '54 Death of Husband on Boat

An action brought by Lillian M. Henn to recover $250,000 for the death of her husband, Robert C. Henn, 36, who lost his life when the yacht, Blackstone, collided with a barge and tug off Esopus Meadows Light July 10, 1954, was taken up for trial in Supreme Court today.

The Blackstone was owned by Clyde Rowan of Highland.

Henn, a resident of Poughkeepsie, an engineer employed by IBM, was a passenger on the boat. A member of a party of 10 IBM engineers who had been on a cruise to Kingston, Henn was in the cabin at the time of the collision and his body went down with the boat and never recovered. Nine other men and Rowan, owner of the boat, were rescued.

The action is brought against Lake Tankers Corp., a Wilmington, Del., corporation and Rowan.

The action was originally brought to recover $500,000 but liability was limited to $250,000 by the U. S. Supreme Court which also directed the action be tried in Supreme Court here.

Rosen and Rosen of Poughkeepsie with N. Levan Haver of counsel appears for plaintiff who now resides in New Rochelle and is employed by IBM. Burlington, Hupper and Kennedy with Andrew J. Cook Jr. of counsel appeared for Lake Tankers and Michael Nardone appears for Rowan.

Hawaiian Damage Light, Hurricane Prowls Pacific

HONOLULU (AP) — After lashing Hawaii with torrential rains and winds up to 92 miles an hour, hurricane Nina prowled the Pacific today, spending her fury some 200 miles to the northwest.

Damage on most islands appeared relatively light with early reports, but communication was yet to be established with the little island of Niihau. The privately owned island and its 250 residents were closest to the hurricane's center.

Indonesians Take Over Dutch Lines

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian workers stretching out their government sponsored strike against Dutch enterprises took over two Dutch shipping lines today.

The Indonesian newspaper Keng Po said workers also had taken over the Dutch owned Geo Whery Trading Co. on an order purportedly issued by an army major.

Trade union workers moved into the offices of the Royal Netherlands Shipping Line (KPM) hoisted the union's red flag and informed Dutch nationals they were taking over on government orders.

Also going into the hands of union workers was the Dutch owned Royal Interocean Lines (KPM) which operates among Indonesia's 3,000 islands.

Swore He Was Beaten

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Tennessee teamster swore today he was beaten and various acts of violence occurred while his Local 327 at Nashville was under leadership of officers backed by international representatives of the Teamsters.

"I got heck knocked out of me, I was knocked unconscious," Brownie Moore, former steward of the local, testified in U. S. District Court.

Moore was called as a witness for a group of 13 New York City area Teamster Union members seeking to avoid the election of James R. Hoffa as president of the big union.

PA Opens Bids

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Power Authority today opened bids for construction of the Adirondack substation near Belfort, Lewis County, a supplemental transmission project of the St. Lawrence power project.

John W. Rouse Construction Corp. of Gouverneur, N. Y., was the apparent low bidder with $581,581.

6,400 Get Permits

Of an allotment of 7,800 special "doe" permits which were allocated to Ulster County 6,400 were issued, according to County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft. Application for these special permits which allow the shooting of doe deer on December 3, only, in the county were received by mail and issued to applicants in the order in which they were received.

Runaway Lovers Will Fight Court

LONDON (AP)—A judge today ordered runaway lovers Tessa Kennedy and Dominic Elwes to return from Scotland and break up their romance.

In Edinburgh, where the 19-year-old fiance fled to escape English jurisdiction, the couple vowed to fight any court action banning their marriage.

"We are going to fight this all the way," Miss Kennedy said. "If our parents bring an action against us in a Scottish court, we will fight it. We are so much in love. We thought this over for a long time."

Elwes said they may flee to the United States to escape the consequences of parental opposition to their marriage.

Mohammed Happy Over Agreements

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—King Mohammed V told his people today he reached "happy solutions" of American-Moroccan problems in his Washington talks with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and other leaders.

The king did not specify what the agreements were but the outstanding subjects discussed were American leases of Moroccan air bases and U. S. economic aid.

A Washington communique said the two countries hoped to reach a "provisional solution" of the bases question by pursuing present negotiations. It said the U. S. would continue its aid programs.

The King made his views known in a letter from Los Angeles, where he is visiting. The letter was read over Morocco's radio network by his son, Crown Prince Moulay Hassan.

Ingrid Mum

LONDON (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman today declined to discuss a report she and her estranged husband, Italian film producer Roberto Rossellini, plan a quick divorce.

"There is nothing I can say now," she said in a statement through a spokesman. "When everything is taken out, we will make a statement as we did before, containing all the facts."

Feared Wife's Action

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Mrs. Beryl Mavis Hooton was awarded a divorce from John F. Hooton yesterday. She testified he refused to work for fear she might be unfaithful in his absence.

Storms Kill 19

ATHENS (AP) — Winter storms lashing the northeast Mediterranean have killed an estimated 19 people, stalled road and rail traffic in deep snowdrifts and sent ships scurrying for shelter.
